Rendezvous Arranged For Amethyst, Cruiser

By WAYNE RICHARDSON

ABOARD H.M.S. JAMAICA

[T SEA (AP)—This 8,000-ton [c]ruiser sped today to rendezvous [wi]th the British sloop Amethyst, [wh]ose bold escape from Chinese [co]mmunist captivity in the Yang[tz]e River Saturday made naval history. The meeting is expected [t]omorrow.

Dramatic details of the Amethyst's dash for freedom were recounted by Vice-Admiral A. C. [G]. Madden, second in command [o]f the Royal Navy's Far Eastern [St]ation.

The vessel had been pinned [d]own by the Communists in the Yangtze since April 20 when she was caught in a disastrous duel with Red shore batteries.

Madden said the escape was "all very well planned and conducted . . . the timing was also a vital factor."

"The Amethyst slipped cable Saturday night, at 10.12 Hongkong time, making as little noise as possible," Madden said "She followed astern of a steamer."

The ship was challenged and, ironically, a Red gunboat also in the same area was set afire by the Reds' gunfire.

The Amethyst replied to the shore batteries with one round of her main armament and a large amount of fire from her Bren and oerlikon guns, Madden said.

Madden said the sloop turned in an amazing performance, covering 140 miles through varying currents and shifting sandbanks and sharp turns in an effort to get past the Woosung forts before dawn.

Forty-four British sailors died in the April 20 fighting.

In London, the Admiralty announced the King had radioed a royal order for the Amethyst's crew to serve an extra ration of rum for all hands. The King also awarded a Distinguished Service Order to Lt.-Cmdr. J. S. Kerans, the Amethyst's skipper.

Another Cease Fire Signed In Dutch-Indonesian War

BATAVIA, Java (UP)—Dutch and Indoesian representatives [f]ormally signed another cease-[fi]re in the Dutch-Indonesian war [t]oday.

A United Nations spokesman said a general cease-fire would [t]he ordered throughout Indonesia at 12.30 G.M.T., Wednesday and that all hostilities would end [s]ome days later at a time to be [a]nnounced by the parties.

He said three major documents had been agreed on:

1. A cease hostility order.
2. A joint proclamation declaring a cease-fire.
3. Regulations for implementing the agreement.

The United Nations commission on Indonesia also established a joint committee to study the release of political and military prisoners, the spokesman said.

International Wheat Pact Now In Effect In Canada

OTTAWA (BUP)—The international wheat agreement went [i]nto effect today and Canada prepared to sell 203,000,000 bushels [t]o 37 importing nations for each of the next four crop years.

Although 37 importing nations signed the agreement, only 19 [h]ad ratified it by the time it went [i]nto effect at one minute past [m]idnight today. Its terms, how[ev]er, provided that the agree[me]nt would go into effect when [ra]tified by enough importing [na]tions to cover 70 per cent of [t]he wheat involved, and by coun[tri]es agreeing to export 80 per [ce]nt.

[T]he agreement has been rati[fie]d by Canada and the U.S.

S. TO TAKE LOSS

WASHINGTON (UP) — The [U]nited States begins taking a [l]oss" today on about one out of every three bushels of wheat shipped out of the country.

Starting today, the United States was committed under the international wheat agreement to export up to 168,000,000 bushels of wheat to specified countries for the next four years at a ceiling price.

The wheat pact also sets a floor price at which the importing countries are committed to accept the wheat. The object is to stabilize world wheat trade—to protect exporting nations from price wars in times of surpluses and to protect wheat importing nations from unreasonably high prices in times of shortages.

The United States will lose money on the deal, at least at the start. On wheat going to Europe under the pact, the ceiling price is equivalent to roughly about $1.70 a bushel, Kansas City basis. That is far below the current market price.

South Korea Heads Split Over Policy Of Invading North

SEOUL (AP)—Some important figures in the American-sponsored South Korean government think the time soon must come when this infant republic must invade the Communist-ruled north as a self-defence measure.

These officials contend Korea cannot much longer endure the division of the country into artificial halves and the almost daily border killings and guerrilla warfare.

Other influential officials maintain that, like it or not, South Koreans must remain patient. Up to now this moderate view has prevailed.

"We don't know what the Communists or the Russians would do if we moved against North Korea," said one of these moderates.

Another said a good answer might come if the north should make good its repeated threats to "liberate" the south. So far, however, the northern raiders never have gone far south of the demarcation line.

Southerners who favor an offensive argue like this:

All efforts of peaceful unification have failed, yet Korea will never be self-sustaining without unification;

The chances of Chinese Red help for the north now are less that the Chinese are fighting their own war in South China;

Eradication of Red control of North Korea would gain the support of all Democratic countries.

The moderates' best arguments for delay are fears that the southern army at its present strength could not hold the north, and that Russia or Red China might intervene.

23 Violent Deaths In Eastern Canada, Including Shooting

TORONTO (CP) — Eastern Canada counted 23 violent deaths during the week-end. The most spectacular of the fatalities was a shooting during a Toronto grocery store holdup.

A Canadian Press compilation today showed that in addition to the Toronto shooting there were nine drownings, eight deaths in traffic accidents, two deaths from being struck by trains, one each by asphyxiation and electrocution and one from stangulation.

In Toronto, Alfred Layng, 25, was shot to death in front of his wife and child as he grappled with a fleeing bandit outside an east-central grocetaria. The gunman still is at large.

Eight Canadians Jailed For Week

MELBOURNE (Reuter)—Eight seamen from the Canadian ship Haligonian Duke were sentenced today to one week's imprisonment for having disobeyed a lawful order by the master July 20. The Haligonian Duke, idle for five months because of a union dispute, left here during the night of July 21 for an undisclosed destination after the navy had unloaded her cargo of coal.

Recover Body Of J. A. Donaghy Off Breakwater Here

Believed to have fallen into the water after striking his head, the body of Joseph A. Donaghy, about 65, of 214 Sims Road, was recovered off the breakwater Sunday night at 11.15, city police report.

Sam Peat, 210 Gorge Road West; Mil Gregory, 1741 Duchess Street, and Edward Richter, 28 Menzies Street, were walking near the breakwater when they heard a groan.

They ran to the B.C. Pilotage at 200 Dallas Road for assistance and a rope and returned to the spot.

Peat immediately swam out and found the floating body of an elderly man. He towed the body to the edge of the breakwater and was assisted by the other two boys to lift it out of the water.

The boy administered artificial respiration and the fire department inhalator crew under assistant fire chief Frank Briers arrived to carry on, but all efforts were futile. At Jubilee Hospital life was pronounced extinct.

Dr. E. L. McNiven reported a large bruise on his right temple. Deceased is reported by members of his family to have suffered a stroke recently.

Personnel of the B.C. Pilotage stood by with lights to assist.

Romania Dissolves Catholic Charities

BUCHAREST (AP)—Romania today dissloved all Roman Catholic Welfare Orders.

There are 15 such orders in Romania, the best know being the French order of St. Vincent de Paul. The orders are devoted to charity, hospital and social work among Roman Catholics.

Catholic priests, monks and nuns enrolled in the orders were told to choose within 15 days whether they will retire to three cloisters and two monasteries assigned to them, enter an old age asylum, or quit their orders and join the lay public, applying for jobs at local employment bureaux.

The decree was published in the official government bulletin.

Attlee Joins Bevin, Cripps On Sick List

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Attlee has fallen ill, becoming the third of Britain's "Big Four" leaders to go on the sick list in time of a national crisis.

"Mr. Attlee is ill at Chequers with a chill," said a spokesman at 10 Downing Street, the Prime Minister's official residence.

Chequers, south of London, is the country home of the Prime Minister.

The Press Association said Attlee, 66, had been bedfast since he went to the country home after delivering a Labor Party election campaign speech in London Saturday.

In addition to his regular duties, Attlee has been supervising the Foreign Office and the Treasury recently. He took them over when Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin and the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir Stafford Cripps, went to continental Europe for medical attention and rest.

Associates in London said: "It is hoped the Prime Minister will return to his office in a day or two."

The Downing Street spokesman told reporters Attlee's ailment "is not serious" and that no medical bulletins will be issued.

U.S. Officers Open Talks With European Army Chiefs

FRANKFURT (AP) — The United States Joint Chiefs of Staff conferred today with army officers of Italy and Luxembourg in the first of a series of talks with European military representatives.

Lt.-Gen. Efisio Marras, Italy's army chief of staff, said at the conclusion of the talks the U.S. chiefs "displayed a friendship on which we can rely without question."

Gen. Marras added there is "no doubt these discussions will be of great mutual benefit."

Admiral Louis Denfeld, U.S. navy chief of operations, said the Italians did not raise the question of U.S. arms aid for western Europe.

The American chiefs—Gen. Omar N. Bradley, army; Admiral Denfeld, navy; and Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, air force, flew in from Washington Saturday for a 10-day study of European defences and potentialities under the Atlantic Pact.

When they go to London later this week the U.S. chiefs will hear two separate plans for Western Europe defence. Both involve the use of U.S. dollars for arms and equipment.

Coal Mine Union Rejects Plans For Back-To-Work Vote

SYDNEY (CP)—Information Minister Arthur Calwell Sunday told a Labor rally the government will use the army, navy and air force against Communists in Australia.

Blaming Australia's Communists for the coal strike that has crippled her industry, the Labor government has pledged to wipe out Communism in the Commonwealth.

As the country-wide strike of 24,000 miners entered its sixth week, the government prepared to smash the walkout by using troops to work open pits.

Calwell told the rally "Communism is on the way out here."

"We will use the army against them, the navy against them, the air force against them."

He said the strikes would be smashed and the government then would move to exterminate "Communist ratbags."

The Communist party is a tiny political force in Australia and has no seats in the federal Parliament, but it is influential in trade unions.

Hopes of ending the strike receded Sunday when the mining union's council threw out plans to take a "back-to-work" vote at miners' mass meetings.

A joint statement issued later by Council President P. J. Carey, and Secretary A. E. Monk, said the decision not to call mass meetings destroyed any unity among the mining unions and amounted to virtual disintegration of the council.

R. Hamilton, acting president of the miners' federation said later: "Mass meetings will be held as soon as there is something more substantial to submit to the rank and file."

He said the terms for ending the strike proposed by the Australian Council of Trade Unions were widely regarded as amounting to capitulation.

Former Navy Workers In Shanghai Free U.S. Consul Officer

SHANGHAI (AP) — Reuben Thomas, United States consulate administrative officer, was free to leave the consulate today after being held in the building for 30 hours by former U.S. navy employees.

He had not left the building late today, however.

The workers—Chinese, some Indians and white Russians—blocked Thomas and other U.S. officials from leaving the building Friday. They demanded severance pay and bonuses of 6½-month's wages as navy employees discharged when the navy pulled out of Shanghai on the approach of the Communists.

Still in the building late today with Thomas were Cmdr. Morgan Slayton, navy attache, and Walter McConaughty, acting consul-general.

Only a handful of the more than 100 former employees remained in the consulate building.

The mystery of Oak Bay's "cougar" has been solved. According to members of the Oak Bay police force, they have received evidence that the animal was just a large dog that could easily have been mistaken for a cougar in poor light.

Truman Tells Congressmen Greece Winning Civil War

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman told Congress today that the Greek government, with United States help, is making "solid progress" toward winning its civil war with the Communists.

He attributed this to improved Greek leadership, accumulating United States military supplies, months of training of Greek soldiers, and "determination, decisiveness and aggressiveness" in the orders of the Greek High Command.

Despite the reported progress militarily and in the Greek economy, the President declared that guerrilla forces are still strong.

The President, in a report to Congress covering the first quarter of this year, said that the strength of the guerrilla forces March 31 was estimated at 19,830 as compared with 26,000 a year earlier.

He estimated Greek guerrilla losses for the total period of the civil war from June, 1946, to March, 1949, at 70,028, killed, surrendered or captured and exclusive of wounded. There were no reports on the wounded.

In the same space of time the Greek Army was shown to have suffered losses of 37,934 killed, wounded or missing.

John Cochrane, Early Druggist, Dies In Hospital In 82nd Year

John Cochrane, an old-time Victoria druggist whose business centred around the four corners of the city's main intersection at Yates and Douglas Streets for 59 years, died at St. Joseph's Hospital Sunday night, less than two weeks short of his 82nd birthday.

Born in Huntingdon, Quebec, Aug. 12, 1867, the year of Confederation, Mr. Cochrane was the son of the late Rev. William Cochrane and Caroline Cochrane. They were Presbyterian Scottish missionaries from Glasgow to the counties of Elgin and Athelstan in the Eastern Township of Quebec.

Mr. Cochrane spent his boyhood in Lanark County and Kingston, Ontario.

He graduated as a gold medalist in pharmacy from the Ontario College of Pharmacy at Toronto in 1887. Coming west in 1888, he followed his profession in Seattle and was there during the big fire which practically wiped out the city.

He located at the northwest corner of Yates and Douglas Streets in Victoria in 1890.

Mr. Cochrane was one of the founders of the B.C. Pharmaceutical Association and represented British Columbia at the formation of the Canadian Pharmaceutical Association.

For more than 35 years he was one of the board of examiners of the B.C. Pharmacy Board.

Mr. Cochrane was one of the oldest and most active members of the Canadian Club here, having held almost every office in the organiaztion. In honor of his past work the club conferred a life membership on him in 1942.

As director of the speakers' committee Mr. Cochrane kept at high level the flow of national and international speakers for the Canadian Club in Victoria.

Surviving is a son, Dr. W. John Cochrane and a daughter, Mrs. Ruth Alexander, both of Victoria. There is a grandson, J. Andrew Cochrane. Mr. Cochrane was predeceased by his wife, Edith, in September, 1947.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Australian Troops Start Working Open Coal Mines

Report Of Red Withdrawal To Anfu Puzzling

CANTON (AP)—Nationalist troops trying to cut Communist supply lines in south central Kiangski Province said today they had reached the outskirts of Anfu. Anfu is 150 miles east of Hengyang.

A column which branched off toward Yunghsin, 25 miles southwest of Anfu, reported heavy fighting.

Foreign quarters here were puzzled by a reported Communist withdawal to Anfu and Yunghsin.

A spokesman for the Canton-Hankow railroad administration said Gen. Chen Ming-jen, deputy commander of Central China, had demanded immediate resumption of rail traffic to Changsha and beyond the Milo River north.

Foreign quarters were unable to reconcile this with private reports that Changsha was in danger of being cut off at any moment by the Reds.

In Moslem northwest China seven Chinese Communist armies invaded Kansu Province, official dispatches said. The Reds moved into Kansu from Shensi Province with an estimated 200,000 men.

Advances were being made on Hwating by three Red armies with four others heading toward Pingliang, the dispatches said.

Communism On 'Way Out Here' Calwell Says

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Australian troops began working nine open-cut coal mines in New South Wales today (Tuesday) to produce the first coal in Australia since the Dominion's 24,000 miners walked out five weeks ago.

Blaming Communists for the strike that has cripped industry, the Labor government has pledged to wipe out Communism in Australia. The fact it is mid-winter south of the equator sharpened the crisis.

The use of army and air force men to cut coal was the government's reply to the refusal of mining unions to take steps to settle the strike.

The miners ask more pay and a reduction of the work week from 40 hours to 35.

Information Minister Arthur Calwell told a Labor rally Sunday that the Government would use troops against Communists.

Calwell told the rally "Communism is on the way out here."

"We will use the army against them, the navy against them, the air force against them."

He said the strikes would be smashed and the government then would move to exterminate "Communist ratbags."

The Communist party is a tiny political force in Australia and has no seats in the federal Parliament, but it is influential in trade unions.

Hopes of ending the strike receded Sunday when the mining union's council threw out plans to take a "back-to-work" vote at miners' mass meetings.

St. Laurent Hints New Talks For Tax Pact With Ontario

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister St. Laurent, returning to Ottawa after three weeks' vacation, today hinted at hopes a tax agreement can be reached between the federal and Ontario governments.

He told reporters that the date of the opening of the new Parliament is apt to be announced this week.

Mr. St. Laurent lunched with Trade Minister Howe who has been acting Prime Minister while he vacationed near Bathurst, N.B. Later in the day he will meet Premiers Smallwood of Newfoundland and Johnson of British Columbia.

Looking tanned and fit, Mr. St. Laurent said in answer to questions about Dominion-provincial relations that he saw Premier Frost of Ontario before going on vacation.

"Although we spoke only of generalities, I got the impression we both realize we have a responsibility to our respective constituents and that they expect us to act accordingly."

(The two governments could not agree during the Dominion-provincial conference of 1945 and 1946.)

Mr. St. Laurent said there certainly would be a general conference by 1950 or 1951 because the provinces which signed separate financial agreements had been promised one.

"But," he added, "I'd hope a lot of matters can be discussed separately with representatives of the provinces first because there are different angles in all parts of Canada—a general conference is more apt to be fruitful if such matters are discussed in advance."

Mr. St. Laurent smiled "I haven't seen Mr. Duplessis nor heard of him, directly or indirectly, for months."

However, he indicated a willingness to discuss matters with the Quebec Premier.

South Korea Leaders Debate Invading North

SEOUL (AP)—Some important figures in the American-sponsored South Korean government think the time soon must come when this infant republic must invade the Communist-ruled north as a self-defence measure.

These officials contend Korea cannot much longer endure the division of the country into artificial halves and the almost daily border killings and guerrilla warfare.

Other influential officials maintain that, like it or not, South Koreans must remain patient. Up to now this moderate view has prevailed.

"We don't know what the Communists or the Russians would do if we moved against North Korea," said one of these moderates.

Another said a good answer might come if the north should make good its repeated threats to "liberate" the south. So far, however, the northern raiders never have gone far south of the demarcation line.

Southerners who favor an offensive argue like this:

All efforts of peaceful unification have failed, yet Korea will never be self-sustaining without unification;

The chances of Chinese Red help for the north now are less that the Chinese are fighting their own war in South China;

Eradication of Red control of North Korea would gain the support of all Democratic countries.

The moderates' best arguments for delay are fears that the southern army at its present strength could not hold the north, and that Russia or Red China might intervene.

New Effort Launched To Bring Settlement Of Bus Line Dispute

SEATTLE (AP) — Company and union negotiations scheduled a meeting for later today in an attempt to iron out a dispute that has tied up service on north coast Greyhound lines since June 18.

Revised demands were submitted by officials of Local 1384, Motor Coach Employees' Union (A.F.L.) to the company. Details of the revisions were not made public.

Approximately 550 employees of the company are on strike. Principal issue of the dispute had been a company demand that drivers be paid on a mileage basis instead of hourly as in the past. Bus service has been tied up north to Vancouver, B.C., and south to Portland.

Unless settlement of the bus strike is reached soon, Acting Mayor David Levine said Saturday he sees no alternative but to ask that the company's certificate be revoked for "failure to provide service."

Wide Ramifications Seen If Arms Program Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. George C. Marshall told the United States Congress today that hesitation in approving President Truman's program of foreign arms aid would be "most unfortunate" and have "wide ramifications."

The former Secretary of State, who was army chief of staff during the Second World War, testified before the House Foreign Affairs Committee that, while failure to approve the program at this time would result in a "minor economy," it also might result in the possibility of a major outlay later on.

Endorsing President Truman's $1,450,000,000 program, Marshall agreed with previous statements by Secretary of State Acheson and the army chief of staff, Gen. Omar N. Bradley.

It is necessary, he said, for the nations of Europe who are friendly to the United States and are resisting Russia to have "mutually co-operative action against aggression."

Marshall stressed the value of "timing" in the spending program and said the psychological effect of its rejection would not be good among the democracies.

Security Ban Halts Talk On Unidentified Aircraft

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Air force security bans have halted airline pilots' discussion of an unidentified aircraft that dropped red and white flares in this vicinity Saturday night.

But police of two states and several towns are still puzzled by the distress-type signals that caused the Portland-Columbia municipal airport to order commercial traffic away for an emergency.

The aircraft and flares were sighted by Northwest Airlines pilot Capt. Paul Thrush and co-pilot C. J. Cole as they brought in a run from Spokane.

Bernard Basford, airport control tower operator, reported seeing the aircraft and taking bearings on its position. Basford said it dropped several flares.

The Oregonian reported air force flight service officers had asked airline pilots to say nothing more on the subject. The newspaper said the air force officials confirmed the subject had been classified as "security matter" there. They added the aircraft was not a military airplane.

Amethyst's Escape Hailed Enthusiastically In London

LONDON (CP)—London newspapers today enthusiastically hailed the exploit of the Royal Navy sloop Amethyst in escaping Communist control by navigating down the Yangtze River.

They also went lyrical over the award of the Distinguished Service Order to Lt.-Cmdr. J. S. Kerans, commander of the sloop.

The Evening Standard said the award would "delight" every Briton except the Communist Daily Worker and its followers.

Earlier, while morning papers splashed the Amethyst's feat across their front pages, the Daily Worker gave it only a few lines on page three.

The Times said in an editorial: "Pride and relief have greeted the daring passage of Lt.-Cmdr. Erans and all the ship's company of the Amethyst down the torturous, pitch-dark channels of the Yangtze.

"It is a story in the highest tradition, bearing comparison with anything in the stirring annals of the little ships of the Royal Navy in the Far East."

Separate Swimming Accidents Claim Lives Of Two Men

VANCOUVER (CP)—Two British Columbia men drowned Sunday in separate swimming accidentts.

A 20-year-old railway cook, James McEvoy of Lillooet, lost his life in the swirling waters of Wreck Beach, at the end of West Point Grey here.

He was swimming in the treacherous waters around the 100-foot wrecked hull which gives the beach its name.

At Skaha Lake, five miles south of Penticton, Arthur Dryhorbe of Penticton lost his life. Police officers recovered his body.

McEvoy is survived by his widow, Ruth, in Lillooet, a brother in Vancouver, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. McEvoy of Melville, Sask. He had been married six months.

No Explanation For Power Failure

Lower Vancouver Island was without electric power for a short time today. And B.C. Electric officials were frankly puzzled by what happened.

Current failed at 10.10 a.m.

"We don't know what happened," a company spokesman said. "It may have been something fell on the line and then fell off, but we found nothing."

The break came at the peak of morning shopping. Some elevators stopped between floors.

Surgical operations were underway at both Royal Jubilee and St. Joseph's Hospitals. Battery and oil lamps were used until electric service was restored.

Report B.C. To Give Newfoundland Mace

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Vancouver Sun says today in an Ottawa dispatch that the province of British Columbia is likely to give a gold-plated mace to the Newfoundland Legislature.

Premier Byron Johnson of British Columbia and Premier Joseph Smallwood of Newfoundland held an informal meeting today but neither would confirm plans for the gift.

One source said Premier Johnson would make the recommendation to his cabinet on his return to Victoria.

Raided Club Burns

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A three-alarm fire roared today through a club which had been raided by police Saturday, and caused an estimated $100,000 damage. Some 350 firemen fought the blaze, in a two-story, brick building in downtown Portland. The cause was not determined.

Fear Depth Charges Would Kill Salmon

Practice depth charge firing from H.M.C.S. Antigonish, Beacon Hill and M.L. 124, scheduled for Aug. 2, has been canceled, it was announced by the Pacific Coast Naval Headquarters today. This action has been taken at the request of the Department of Fisheries, it was disclosed.

Naval Headquarters said the Fisheries Department feared the depth charge firing would interfere with the annual salmon run in B.C. waters.

Another Cease Fire Signed In Dutch-Indonesian War

BATAVIA, Java (UP)—Dutch and Indoesian representatives formally signed another cease-fire in the Dutch-Indonesian war today.

A United Nations spokesman said a general cease-fire would be ordered throughout Indonesia at 12.30, G.M.T., Wednesday and that all hostilities would end some days later at a time to be announced by the parties.

He said three major documents had been agreed on:

1. A cease hostility order.
2. A joint proclamation declaring a cease-fire.
3. Regulations for implementing the agreement.

The United Nations commission on Indonesia also established a joint committee to study the release of political and military prisoners, the spokesman said.

Whales Off Victoria Attract Attention

Victorians along Dallas Road waterfront were treated to a comparatively rare display between 11 and noon Sunday when from six to a dozen whales were observed heading seaward.

Their blowing and splashes from the slapping of tails on the surface could be plainly seen. Heads and tails of the whales, believed to be sperms, could also be seen, one observer said.

The big mammals swam toward Albert Head and then disappeared.

One Woman's Day

By NANCY HODGES

'DEAD YESTERDAY'

AN UNKNOWN READER has sent me a page from the 100th anniversary edition of The Brockville Recorder, and as it happens to be devoted to excerpts from the woman's pages of the earlier issues of 1849, I have enjoyed many a chuckle.

For instance, my heart went out to the Ontario columnist of that day who obviously shared my views on the current misuse of the word "lady." She, or it might have been he, summed it up in this pungent paragraph:

"All are called ladies and gentlemen nowadays. A western paper speaks of a lady that was hanged last year."

CURE FOR HYSTERICS

LADIES or no ladies, the busy housewives of the Ontario of 1849 evidently found time to indulge in hysterics occasionally, for a household hint by Vicki, the Recorder woman's editor of that day, gives this as a cure:

"Carraway seeds finely ground with a small amount of ginger and salt spread upon bread and butter and eaten every day early in the morning and at night."

That "early in the morning" theme is also emphasized in another tip from Vicki. It is described as "a very simple remedy for rheumatism (much suffered by the elderly in this climate)."

GUNSHOT DOSE

TO ME IT SOUNDS a pretty drastic cure, but as the claim is made that many people were cured by it, I give it as written:

"Take of glazed gunpowder as much as may be contained in a large thimble. Wet this with milk, swallow it down and drink a good half pint of milk directly. Do this nine or ten mornings not later than 7 o'clock."

After that blasting process, I wasn't surprised to read about an ointment which could be made at home and was a guaranteed cure for baldness—if applied to the scalp one day before the full moon. The time element was apparently as important as the ingredients, including boar's grease and ashes of southernwood, among others.

MAGICAL CURE-ALL

APROPOS of cure-alls, an adjacent advertisement headed "Important News For Canada," caught my eye. It told of Dalley's Magical Pain Extractor which, so it said, "is recommended by the Faculty."

It doesn't say what particular faculty does the recommending but goes on, in part:

"The fond mother blesses the Magic Virtues, and will never be without it in her house, for what families are exempt from accidents. The prudent Farmer uses it, confessing it to be the best application for Galled Shoulders, for Gelded Sheep, Horses, Calves, etc. The Fair Sex have it on their Toilet Tables, finding nothing so conducive to Beauty, as it removes all Freckles, Blotches and Pimples from the face and hands, rendering the skin soft, white and delicate."

MIXING THE DRINKS

I MUST CONFESS I chortled at the thought of what would happen in this day of beauticians and cosmeticians if someone happened along with a concoction which claimed to be as efficacious for an animal's hide as for milady's skin-you-love-to-touch!

And I came to the conclusion that Brockville stomachs and heads a century ago were as tough as their epidermises, after reading this household hint from Vicki's page:

"To make a pleasant, sober and refreshing drink for summer take one bottle of sherry, two bottles of cider, one of perry and one of brandy. After those ingredients are mixed take two lemons, slice, put into a cup. To these add nutmeg, powdered sugar and to make this palatable toast a biscuit and throw it hot into the liquor. This is generally found to be a light and pleasant draught producing no ill effects on those who drink it.

One Killed, 3 Hurt In Virginia Blast

CLARKSBURG, W. Va. (AP)—One man was killed and at least three injured in a blast in downtown Clarksburg about midnight Saturday.

Fire Chief J. J. Martin said that the blast apparently was caused by the explosion of a charge of either nitroglycerine or dynamite placed in the car in which the man was sitting.

Martin identified the man as John Segroits and said he had been having domestic troubles and that his wife was tentatively identified as one of the three persons taken to a hospital.

At least 15 homes in the immediate area were damaged seriously by the explosion and fire which followed. Three stores were damaged.

About 300 homes in the area were reported to be without electricity and telephone service as a result of the explosion.

Two Players Killed When Lightning Bolt Hits Baseball Park

BAKER, Fla. (AP)—A jagged, shattering lightning bolt struck a baseball diamond Sunday, killing two players and spreading pandemonium among a crowd of 300.

Fifty other persons were injured, one critically.

The spectators ran screaming from the field as the bolt cut a ditch three inches deep and 20 feet long in the grounds.

Flashes of electricity and sparks spread throughout the park, but no fire resulted.

Gordon Walther, left fielder for the Baker team, said he and some teammates were knocked to the ground as they were running to their positions to start the game.

Walther said as he got up he saw flames and sparks "all over the place" and heard men, women and children screaming as they fled.

The dead, both members of the Baker baseball club, were listed as:

Allen L. Joyner Jr., 23, and Harry Moore. Joyner was third baseman and Moore, shortstop.

Baker is in northwest Florida about 50 miles east of Pensacola.

STARTS FOREST FIRE

Lightning bolts in northern California Saturday night started at least 180 forest fires, set off an explosion that killed two men and injured five others, and knocked out power lines.

The electrical storm scared a lot of people. Lightning and thunder are rare here. Police and newspaper telephone switchboard in the San Francisco Bay area were ablaze with incoming calls from persons wanting to know what were the flashes of light and the "explosions."

On a construction project near Oroville, lightning set off an explosion that killed S. W. Spears and Bob Reynolds.

They and 25 other men had just completed packing dynamite into bores for a tunnel at the Jackass Creek dam site.

Miracle Rescue Boat On Hand To Save Lives Of Five Men

Five British Columbia seamen are safe at Cascade Harbor on the east coast of Vancouver Island today after a thrilling sea-rescue by a boat known only as the K.A.

The men were the crew of the gillnetter Greer Starett. Skimpy radio reports filtering into Victoria and Vancouver say the fishboat hit a reef during fog and darkness early Saturday and plowed up onto the rocks.

The scene of the wreck is one half mile south of Cape Caution in the treacherous waters at the entrance to Queen Charlotte Sound, 250 miles north of Victoria.

It is believed to be nothing short of a miracle that the craft K.A. happened on the scene at the time to pluck the shipwrecked seamen from the waters.

The 140-foot Seattle passenger ship Western Trader radioed the U.S. Coast Guard at Seattle that the gillnetter Greer Starett had crashed onto the rocks and sunk. Its brief report said the K.A. slipped in out of the night and picked up the illfated crew.

SEATTLE (AP)—Seven persons were rescued Sunday after two small boats capsized in the mouth of the Umpqua River on the Oregon coast, the coast guard reported.

At the same time, the fishing vessels Mirn and Western Trader, believed in trouble Saturday night, were listed as safe and in no danger.

The Umpqua River coast guard lifeboat station, investigating cries for help heard in a heavy fog, found that two men and a woman already had been pulled out of the chill waters by the fish boat Donna II.

REACHED JETTY

A short time later the station picked up Mr. and Mrs. William H. Jenkins and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Armstrong, all of Eugene, from the north jetty of the river. They had reached safety on the jetty after their motor-boat capsized.

Another skiff turned turtle in the mouth of the Suislaw River on the Oregon shore. The number of persons in the boat was not learned, the coast guard said, but all were rescued by fishermen.

A search for the 140-foot Western Trader, carrying 10 crewmen and five passengers, was canceled when the R.C.A.F. at Vancouver learned the Seattle ship was in no difficulty.

A faint distress call was picked up from the Western Trader at 3.18 Saturday afternoon. It was found today the call had been made for the gillnetter Greer Starett, aground on the British Columbia coast near Cape Caution.

International Wheat Pact Now In Effect In Canada

OTTAWA (BUP)—The international wheat agreement went into effect today and Canada prepared to sell 203,000,000 bushels to 37 importing nations for each of the next four crop years.

Although 37 importing nations signed the agreement, only 19 had ratified it by the time it went into effect at one minute past midnight today. Its terms, however, provided that the agreement would go into effect when ratified by enough importing nations to cover 70 per cent of the wheat involved, and by countries agreeing to export 80 per cent.

The agreement has been ratified by Canada and the U.S.

U.S. TO TAKE LOSS

WASHINGTON (UP) — The United States begins taking a "loss" today on about one out of every three bushels of wheat shipped out of the country.

Starting today, the United States was committed under the international wheat agreement to export up to 168,000,000 bushels of wheat to specified countries for the next four years at a ceiling price.

The wheat pact also sets a floor price at which the importing countries are committed to accept the wheat. The object is to stabilize world wheat trade—to protect exporting nations from price wars in times of surpluses and to protect wheat importing nations from unreasonably high prices in times of shortages.

The United States will lose money on the deal, at least at the start. On wheat going to Europe under the pact, the ceiling price is equivalent to roughly about $1.70 a bushel, Kansas City basis. That is far below the current market price.

Truman Tells Congressmen Greece Winning Civil War

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman told Congress today that the Greek government, with United States help, is making "solid progress" toward winning its civil war with the Communists.

He attributed this to improved Greek leadership, accumulating United States military supplies, months of training of Greek soldiers, and "determination, decisiveness and aggressiveness" in the orders of the Greek High Command.

Despite the reported progress militarily and in the Greek economy, the President declared that guerrilla forces are still strong.

The President, in a report to Congress covering the first quarter of this year, said that the strength of the guerrilla forces March 31 was estimated at 19,830 as compared with 26,000 a year earlier.

He estimated Greek guerrilla losses for the total period of the civil war from June, 1946, to March, 1949, at 70,028, killed, surrendered or captured and exclusive of wounded. There were no reports on the wounded.

In the same space of time the Greek Army was shown to have suffered losses of 37,934 killed, wounded or missing.

Global Testimony

Secretary of State Dean Acheson (centre) does some round-the-world pointing as he testifies before the House Foreign Affairs Committee, seeking approval of Truman's $450,000,000 arms program for Europe. With Acheson at the globe are Representative John Kee (Dem.-W.Va.), left, committee chairman, and Representative John W. Vorys (Rep.-O.).—(NEA Telephoto)

John Cochrane, Early Druggist, Dies In Hospital In 82nd Year

John Cochrane, an old-time Victoria druggist whose business centred around the four corners of the city's main intersection at Yates and Douglas Streets for 59 years, died at St. Joseph's Hospital Sunday night, less than two weeks short of his 82nd birthday.

Born in Huntingdon, Quebec, Aug. 12, 1867, the year of Confederation, Mr. Cochrane was the son of the late Rev. William Cochrane and Caroline Cochrane. They were Presbyterian Scottish missionaries from Glasgow to the counties of Elgin and Athelstan in the Eastern Township of Quebec.

Mr. Cochrane spent his boyhood in Lanark County and Kingston, Ontario.

He graduated as a gold medalist in pharmacy from the Ontario College of Pharmacy at Toronto in 1887. Coming west in 1888, he followed his profession in Seattle and was there during the big fire which practically wiped out the city.

He located at the northwest corner of Yates and Douglas Streets in Victoria in 1890.

Mr. Cochrane was one of the founders of the B.C. Pharmaceutical Association and represented British Columbia at the formation of the Canadian Pharmaceutical Association.

For more than 35 years he was one of the board of examiners of the B.C. Pharmacy Board.

Mr. Cochrane was one of the oldest and most active members of the Canadian Club here, having held almost every office in the organiaztion. In honor of his past work the club conferred a life membership on him in 1942.

As director of the speakers' committee Mr. Cochrane kept at high level the flow of national and international speakers for the Canadian Club in Victoria.

Surviving is a son, Dr. W. John Cochrane and a daughter, Mrs. Ruth Alexander, both of Victoria. There is a grandson, J. Andrew Cochrane. Mr. Cochrane was predeceased by his wife, Edith, in September, 1947.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

23 Violent Deaths In Eastern Canada, Including Shooting

TORONTO (CP) — Eastern Canada counted 23 violent deaths during the week-end. The most spectacular of the fatalities was a shooting during a Toronto grocery store holdup.

A Canadian Press compilation today showed that in addition to the Toronto shooting there were nine drownings, eight deaths in traffic accidents, two deaths from being struck by trains, one each by asphyxiation and electrocution and one from stangulation.

In Toronto, Alfred Layng, 25, was shot to death in front of his wife and child as he grappled with a fleeing bandit outside an east-central grocetaria. The gunman still is at large.

Eight Canadians Jailed For Week

MELBOURNE (Reuter)—Eight seamen from the Canadian ship Haligonian Duke were sentenced today to one week's imprisonment for having disobeyed a lawful order by the master July 20. The Haligonian Duke, idle for five months because of a union dispute, left here during the night of July 21 for an undisclosed destination after the navy had unloaded her cargo of coal.

Resided Here 58 Years

Mrs. Sarah Ann Campbell, 76, of 912 North Park Street, who lived in Victoria for the past 58 years, died Sunday at her home.

Widow of David Faulkner Campbell, Mrs. Campbell was born in England. She is survived by two sons, John F. and Douglas F., and two daughters, Mrs. E. Glancy and Mrs. B. Christianson. There is one sister, Mrs. Emily Noble, and four grandchildren, all of Victoria.

Former Navy Workers In Shanghai Free U.S. Consul Officer

SHANGHAI (AP) — Reuben Thomas, United States consulate administrative officer, was free to leave the consulate today after being held in the building for 30 hours by former U.S. navy employees.

He had not left the building late today, however.

The workers—Chinese, some Indians and white Russians—blocked Thomas and other U.S. officials from leaving the building Friday. They demanded severance pay and bonuses of 6½-month's wages as navy employees discharged when the navy pulled out of Shanghai on the approach of the Communists.

Still in the building late today with Thomas were Cmdr. Morgan Slayton, navy attache, and Walter McConaughty, acting consul-general.

Only a handful of the more than 100 former employees remained in the consulate building.

Recover Body Of J. A. Donaghy Off Breakwater Here

Believed to have fallen into the water after striking his head, the body of Joseph A. Donaghy, about 59, of 214 Sims Road, was recovered off the breakwater Sunday night at 11.15, city police report.

Sam Peat, 210 Gorge Road West; Mil Gregory, 1741 Duchess Street, and Edward Richter, 28 Menzies Street, were walking near the breakwater when they heard a groan.

They ran to the B.C. Pilotage at 200 Dallas Road for assistance and a rope and returned to the spot.

Peat immediately swam out and found the floating body of an elderly man. He towed the body to the edge of the breakwater and was assisted by the other two boys to lift it out of the water.

The boy administered artificial respiration and the fire department inhalator crew under assistant fire chief Frank Briers arrived to carry on, but all efforts were futile. At Jubilee Hospital life was pronounced extinct.

Dr. E. L. McNiven reported a large bruise on his right temple. Deceased is reported by members of his family to have suffered a stroke recently.

Personnel of the B.C. Pilotage stood by with lights to assist.

Find Fishing At Qualicum Good

Several Victorians who arrived back from Qualicum today, reported excellent salmon fishing at the famous resort beach.

Pat Dunn reported that Jim Blyth, Pete McKenzie and he caught 10 salmon Sunday—bluebacks and springs. He said they were taking them on small Tom Mack and diamond spoons, three ounces of weight and with only 60 to 70 feet of line out.

Insp. Harry Mercer, chief of detectives at the city police, returned to the job today after a week's holiday at the up-island beach and reported enjoying some excellent fishing on the same lures.

Cruiser's Crew Cheers Shell-Battered Amythest

By WAYNE RICHARDSON

ABOARD H.M.S. JAMAICA AT SEA (AP)—This 8,000-ton cruiser made contact today with the shell-battered Royal Navy sloop Amethyst, amid lusty cheers from the cruiser's 700 men.

The Jamaica's mission was to meet the Amethyst, whose bold escape from Chinese Communist captivity in the Yangtze River Saturday made naval history.

Signel flags displayed by the Jamaica read "Welcome back tiddy oggie." Tiddy oggie is a Devonshire pastry and the crews of both the Amethyst and the Jamaica are west-country lads.

From the Jamaica I was able to count seven places where artillery hits had been patched up by the Amethyst's crew. There were numerous smaller-calibre hits on her side. She had a slight list to port.

With a Royal Marine band playing "Cruising Down the River" and "The Conquering Hero Comes," a boat was launched from the Jamaica to carry mail to the Amethyst.

The Amethyst is due in Hongkong Wednesday morning.

Dramatic details of the Amethyst's dash for freedom were recounted by Vice-Admiral A. C. G. Madden, second in command of the Royal Navy's Far Eastern station.

The vessel had been pinned down by the Communists in the Yangtze since April 20 when she was caught in a disastrous duel with Red shore batteries.

Madden said the escape was "all very well planned and conducted . . . the timing was also a vital factor."

"The Amethyst slipped cable Saturday night, at 10.12 Hongkong time, making as little noise as possible," Madden said "She followed astern of a steamer."

The ship was challenged and, ironically, a Red gunboat also in the same area was set afire by the Reds' gunfire.

The Amethyst replied to the shore batteries with one round of her main armament and a large amount of fire from her Bren and oerlikon guns, Madden said.

Madden said the sloop turned in an amazing performance, covering 140 miles through varying currents and shifting sandbanks and sharp turns in an effort to get past the Woosung forts before dawn.

Forty-four British sailors died in the April 20 fighting.

In London, the Admiralty announced the King had radioed a royal order for the Amethyst's crew to serve an extra ration of rum for all hands. The King also awarded a Distinguished Service Order to Lt.-Cmdr. J. S. Kerans, the Amethyst's skipper.

Romania Dissolves Catholic Charities

BUCHAREST (AP)—Romania today dissloved all Roman Catholic Welfare Orders.

There are 15 such orders in Romania, the best know being the French order of St. Vincent de Paul. The orders are devoted to charity, hospital and social work among Roman Catholics.

Catholic priests, monks and nuns enrolled in the orders were told to choose within 15 days whether they will retire to three cloisters and two monasteries assigned to them, enter an old age asylum, or quit their orders and join the lay public, applying for jobs at local employment bureaux.

The decree was published in the official government bulletin.

World Flier Plans Atlantic Flight

TALKING PLAIN SENSE

OUR FRIENDLY NEIGHBOR'S SECRETARY of Defence, Mr. Louis Johnson, warned Congress in Washington last week that unless the United States supplied a full variety of arms to the nations of Western Europe which are signatory to the North Atlantic Pact, his country eventually might have to "liberate" those freedom-loving lands from another aggressor. Reduced to simple language, of course, Mr. Johnson was telling the 145,000,000 people of the United States that the days of isolation are over, that it would be stupid, in their own interests, to wait to put out the fire after it is out of control.

It is not for Canada—nor is Canada in the mood—to "lecture" her good friends on the southern side of the 49th parallel; but it is obvious that the people of this Dominion were fully aware of their obligations when their Parliament approved the North Atlantic Pact. As we have recalled on numerous occasions, the Soviet Union, her satellite states, and thousands of "fellow travellers" who pose as intellectuals, continue to label this agreement as a warlike instrument. Again, we repeat, it is nothing of the kind. If the men who constitute the Politburo in Moscow would deal with truth and face realities, and admit that their worship at the Marxian shrine is outmoded as it applies to humanitarian thinking, they would immediately earn the gratitude and adulation of millions of people who are sick and tired of war and all that war entails in human misery.

Unhappily, however, Stalin and Company have no intention of bringing themselves into this frame of mind. Hence it was necessary for Mr. Johnson to tell the Congress what course the United States ought to take in the matter of supplying Western Europe with the requisite amount of arms for the task of "liberating" such nations as might be conquered by an aggressor. It is obvious that those in Washington who understand all the implications of the conflict—"cold war" or "hot war"—between west and east do not intend to take any more chances. This is all to the good.

RAGGED AT THE EDGES

ANY CITY WHICH HOPES TO RETAIN its attraction for tourists should, we believe, take the trouble to keep its environs neat. Tidiness on public streets, for instance, is a requisite which should not be ignored. Yet the weed growth on some roadways—Robertson Street is an example—lends anything but appeal to the vista which greets a visiting motorist rolling through the residential districts. Nor does the luxuriance of some of the boulevards, uncut and unkempt, increase the basis for civic pride.

Of course it costs money to cut down the gutter vegetation. Of course it costs money to mow the grass strips. But those are among the services for which Victorians pay taxes.

Those of our citizens who have motored down the coast this summer must have been impressed by the appearance of many of the towns and small cities through which they traveled. And we venture to suggest that the centres which made the most favorable impression were those where attractive homes and grounds were matched by well kept street borders—a matter of prime consideration to the people of several Oregon communities, for instance.

Many years ago the noted head of a great transcontinental railway line, chagrined by action taken by the city, vowed the time would arrive when grass grew over the streets of Victoria. In this capital city there should be no excuse for even a partial implementation of that threat.

SAVING THE TOTEMS

IT IS GRATIFYING TO LEARN THAT the University of British Columbia is about to undertake a study of the history and lore of the native Indians of the Pacific Coast, in order to preserve for posterity the almost-vanished culture of the tribes. The work will probably take several years, but in the words of University President N. A. M. Mackenzie, "It is about time the white man took steps to preserve the last traces of a civilization he all but destroyed." To which Prof. Hunter Lewis, who will conduct the research, adds, "It is extremely urgent that it start at once."

A major concern of the mission will be the preservation of the remaining Indian totem and house poles which may still be found along the coast. And since the poles represent the history and legends of the various tribes, all data relating to their cultural background will be carefully sought. As a further means of preserving this unique art form, the University shortly will open a totem pole park on the campus, in which original poles, restored and treated to halt deterioration, will be on view.

Experts point to the fact that British Columbians have been slow to appreciate the value of the Indians' heritage, although in former years museums all over the world had been active in purchasing totems to complete their anthropological collections. The Provincial Museum in this city contains a wealth of Indian relics, which some day may be better displayed in more expansive quarters. The University plan, meanwhile, is a belated but very worthy project which should receive every encouragement. A country's primitive cultures form the basis of its most precious possessions; and we, whose encroaching civilization has almost obliterated that of the Indians, bear the responsibility of saving for posterity the traces which still remain.

WHERE THERE'S A WILL . . .

IT WILL COME AS NO SURPRISE TO even casual observers of the South American scene to learn that President Juan Peron has been acclaimed as the Peronista Party candidate for re-election in 1952. And it will be still less surprising to find the Argentine dictator accepting the honor. His recent protestations that he did not feel equal to another term in office apparently were not believed by his Party followers any more than they were by North Americans who have been following the news, but likely for a different reason. For it was not long ago that Peron exerted every art of dictatorship to ensure that the Argentine constitution was changed to permit him to succeed himself in the Presidential chair. During the past 96 years no President had been allowed two consecutive terms.

It is difficult to say at the present time just what opposition the President may have at the polls three years from now. Reports from Argentina indicate that the rule of Peron and his actress spouse, which has for so long been marked by popular enthusiasm and a strong control of the affairs of the country, may have come to the beginning of the downgrade. Economic problems, deriving from a lack of overseas markets for Argentine products, are piling up, and certain factions—notably the Conservative army clique—are beginning to wonder if their day is now about to dawn. Life for opponents of the Perons is not prosperous or particularly healthy in Argentina. The political squeeze on the press, the universities, the armed forces, business and other phases of the national life has been suave, but, when necessary, relentless. History, however, has shown every dictatorship to carry within itself the seeds of its own downfall. It is not likely that the Argentine variety will prove an exception.

JOHN COCHRANE

DEATH CAME YESTERDAY TO A WELL-known and highly-respected citizen after a brief illness in his 82nd year. He was Mr. John Cochrane, one of the founders of the British Columbia Pharmaceutical Society, and for four decades one of the stalwarts of the Canadian Club of Victoria. As a pioneer druggist in this community as far back as 1890 he had built up a thriving business over whose activities he presided until a week or so ago. He was a familiar figure along the route from his Linden Avenue home to his store; for he always walked unless the elements interfered. He will be missed by his legion of friends—particularly by members of the Canadian Club who remember the period of his presidency.

BUILDING BOOM

VISITORS TO THIS CITY WHO RETURN only at long intervals have recently been much impressed by the number of new buildings and the changing architectural aspect of our streets. As one of them put it the other day, there have been more changes and growth in the past 10 years than there had been in the preceding 20. Victoria is now in many respects a new city. Developments along this line are emphasized by the figures presented in a Daily Times survey which appeared in the news columns last Saturday. Projects completed, in process of construction, or planned, totalling $12,000,000—quite apart from the many private dwellings that are creating new residential blocks throughout Greater Victoria—will have a noticeable effect on the face of this community.

For residents, who see the buildings go up one by one, the change may not be so marked. But for the former resident or visitor who returns after an absence of some years, the expression "I hardly know the place," is a common one. In the midst of all this activity it behooves us to retain those features of our city which are worthy of survival. Even though the physical appearance of the environment may undergo transformation, there are basic essentials of Victoria living that should not be allowed to disappear. The amenities of life as we enjoy them here are becoming more rare in the world as time passes. We have something well worth preserving; let us make sure that it is preserved.

THEY ENJOY IT

AMONG THE ADMIRABLE FEATURES of summer holidays in Greater Victoria are the periodic "special days" held for the benefit of the younger children in parks throughout the area. Neighborhood youngsters are encouraged to take part in puppet shows, fancy dress displays, pet shows, exhibits of handicrafts, and other entertaining and instructive activities. All who have given assistance to the children in such endeavors are to be commended for their interest in a very worthy cause. The enthusiasm with which the boys and girls respond to the leadership is at once an obvious indication of the need for such programs and a gratifying reward for the adult effort that has been expended.

Utopia must be the place where they have means of relieving the pressure of various pressure groups.

Matter Of Fact

By STEWART ALSOP
from Rangoon, Burma.

NOT HOPELESS

HERE AS ELSEWHERE in Asia, the Nationalist leaders who are now trying to govern Burma, are rather like intelligent but neurotic adolescents. They are adolescent in their lack of experience of the hard realities of power and politics. And they are neurotic in their obsessive fear of losing their hard-won independence.

Yet because Burma's leaders are also highly intelligent, they are capable of learning. They are now learning some difficult lessons. It is this which makes it possible to say that the mess which is Burma today is not a hopeless mess.

THE FIRST LESSON, which they have already learned, is that Communists are Communists. Like Indonesia's, Burma's nationalist government had originally a strong fellow-traveling coloration. Every possible effort was made to appease the Communists. When the Communists, nevertheless, took up arms against the government, in obedience to the Kremlin's Asian strategy, the fellow-traveling tinge began rapidly to fade, although it has not yet faded out entirely.

The second lesson which the Burmese leaders are learning is that they must have a settlement with the rebellious Karens. As long as the tough Karens are in revolt, Burma will remain a quivering jelly which the Chinese Communists will ultimately consume with ease. If the authority of the government is to be re-established, the Karens must be transformed from the enemies of the government into its active allies.

THE THIRD LESSON has been, for quite understandable reasons, the most difficult to learn. It is simply that without some help from the outside, the mess in Burma will never be cleared up, and the Communists will inherit the power which the British surrendered.

This lesson has been so difficult because the Burmese leaders react to anything that smacks of "intervention" as though they had been flicked with a whip in an open wound. They are obsessed with the fear that somehow the British, or even perhaps the Americans, will seize power in Burma. However unreasonable this fear may be, it is necessary to recognize its existence to understand not only what is going on here but elsewhere in Asia. "You've got to remember," remarked one astute American here, "that they're as scared of us as they are of the Communists."

THIS IS STILL partly true, but it is a great deal less true than it was only a few months ago, when it was impossible to help the government of Burma simply because the government refused all help. Now, by way of contrast, the Burmese leaders are reluctantly considering the possibility of outside mediation in their dispute with the Karens, which is probably the only way a settlement with the Karens can be achieved. Moreover, they are nervously toying with a British Commonwealth offer of aid in the form of money and arms. They are inspecting the offer from every possible angle, to make sure that no imperialist strings are attached, but they have gone so far as to send Vice-Premier Ne Win to London to talk things over. And finally, Premier Thakin Nu has made an open bid for American capital investment in Burma, which would have been unthinkable a few months ago.

THAKIN NU'S BID is hardly likely to find an eager response now, simply because any capitalist would be mad to invest a dollar in Burma today. Yet if only the mess can be cleared up in time, through a settlement with the Karens and help from the Commonwealth, there will be breath-taking opportunities for economic development in this rich country, with its huge unexploited coal and oil reserves and its great food surplus. With peace, capital investment, and technical assistance, a sudden, sharp rise in the standard of living of the people here is wholly predictable.

THUS A BURMA with a political and economic structure sufficiently strong permanently to withstand the Communist drive south in Asia is at least possible. But it is no more than possible. It is based on a whole series of ifs—if a settlement with the Karens can be reached, if effective economic and military aid is forthcoming from the British Commonwealth, if the necessary capital and technical assistance comes from the United States, above all if there is time to clean up the mess before the Chinese Communists armies reach the borders of Burma.

THERE IS STILL a chance here, and clearly the United States, working with the British Commonwealth, should do everything that can be done to increase the chance. But it is only necessary to add up the ifs to realize that in losing China we have risked losing not only Burma but the whole vast, fabulously rich, strategically vital region of southeast Asia.

Shadows On The Lampshade

By CASSANDRA, in the London Daily Mirror

I HAVE just bought a lampshade.

I think it is a very good lampshade.

Well made. Pleasant design. Honest value. In other words, it is what I, who wanted to buy a good lampshade, consider to be an excellent buy.

It was sold to me by a pleasant, good-mannered, polite, neatly-dressed, competent person.

CHARACTER ANALYSIS

Now if I were ordered, under compulsion, to speculate on her character and experience, and if I were given ten seconds in which to study her physical figure and mental form, I should say that she was married, used a home perm, liked Danny Kaye, played tennis badly as a girl at a suburban tennis club, drank an occasional gin and lime and thought that Mr. Churchill was really rather a darling.

And very likely I'd be dead wrong.

But what is dead right, is that she just had concluded a very amicable transaction in John Lewis's shop in Oxford-street with your correspondent—a man who wanted a nice lampshade, who also likes Danny Kaye, who has never used a home perm, who thinks that Harry Pollitt is a human parrot, who believes that the Dean of Canterbury is a dangerous crank and who feels that Oswald Mosley is a poor sort of fish.

This week the John Lewis Partnership, in the muddy depths of its solemn and misguided councils, has decided by 60 votes to 41, that if a saleswoman thought that Harry Pollitt ought to live in Downing Street, that the Dean was the embodiment of saintliness and that Oswald Mosley was the hero of Alamein, then she should not be allowed to sell me a lampshade. Furthermore they insist that she should be fired forthwith.

SAME TEST?

Did you ever hear such pernicious nonsense?

If the John Lewis Partnership—this rather wayward regiment still apparently led to political battle by Mr. Spedan Lewis from the rear—decides that neither a Communist nor a Fascist shall sell the public a lampshade, will they then be logical and apply the same political test to the customers?

Can Willie Gallacher go to the picture department and buy a photograph of Ernie Bevan? And would Mr. Spedan Lewis, and his twelve thousand political and business partners share in the profit over such a doubtful deal?

And if part of the frame of the photograph had been polished by a gentleman who secretly thought that Mr. Piratin and Mr. Zilliacus and Mr. Platts-Mills were rather stout fellows, would it still be policy to hawk the tainted object?

If a salesgirl in the hardware department is convinced that all that lies between this country and ruin irretrievable is Uncle Fred Woolton and the F.B.I., but also happens to be married to a shop steward who is the secretary of the local Communist Party, is she politically unclean to the John Lewis tribunals? There is no end to these ugly possibilities.

NO POLITBURO

The strength of British political life has been its maturity and its enormous absorptive capacity to enrich itself from extremes and reject the less pleasant features.

It ill becomes traders of pots and pans and ladies' underwear to set up their own private politburo and run the risk of acquiring an amateur corps of petty judges and private informants.

With $125,000,000 To Spend

By PETER EDSON from Washington

SENTIMENT is piling up in the U.S. Senate to give Nationalist China some more military assistance.

This lends interest to an accounting for the last $125,000,000 worth of military assistance given to Chiang Kai-shek's government in June, 1948, with which to fight the Commies.

PURCHASES EXPLAINED

The Chinese Embassy in Washington reports that about $50,000,000 of this sum went to buy arms and ammunition. The embassy further reports that all but $17,000,000 worth of these goods have been delivered or are now en route to China. Some of the undelivered goods, like truck spare parts, radio and signal corps equipment which had to be made up special, won't be delivered for another six months.

Of the total amount, $87,500,000 was allocated to buy ground force supplies, $28,000,000 aviation supplies and $9,500,000 naval supplies.

As to how much good these supplies did, there is some difference of opinion.

BLACK MARKET

There have been some reports of U.S. supplies—particularly aviation gasoline—finding their way into the black market or being used by troops that in the end went over to the Communist side, taking their equipment with them. The two Communist divisions that captured Nanking have now been identified as former Nationalist divisions turned Commie.

The law authorizing the last $125,000,000 worth of military assistance to Nationalist China was passed in April, 1948. The appropriation was made on June 28, just a little over a year ago.

Here's what happened, according to trustworthy sources:

About a third of the naval allocation went for fuel. The other two-thirds went for spare parts for the 131 surplus vessels and 50 landing craft previously given to the Chinese government without charge. Four destroyer escorts were taken from the U.S. reserve fleet and given to the Chinese for no other charge than what it cost to re-activate and re-equip them.

The U.S. Force bought $7,750,000 worth of aviation equipment for the Chinese account. Four million dollars worth has been shipped. The rest is on order. It includes ammunition and arms, spare parts, aviation fuels and lubricants, medical and signal corps equipment as ordered by the Chinese.

The Chinese government itself has bought in the open U.S. market another $20,250,000 worth of aviation supplies, plus $23,500,000 worth of equipment for ground forces.

The story of the $64,000,000 worth of supplies bought for the Chinese by the U.S. army is a tangled tale.

COMPARED PRICES

One source claims that at the outset, the Chinese lost a month in comparing army prices with open market prices. By Aug. 31 the U.S. army had determined that it could supply all requirements for .30-calibre rifles, carbines and small arms ammunition from current (not surplus) U.S. stocks. But the Chinese delayed placing any orders for another month.

In September the army reported it could supply signal, engineer and medical equipment wanted by the Chinese. In that same month the U.S. Treasury, at Chinese government request, transferred $25,000,000 to the army for purchase of metals and powder base materials for Chinese arsenals.

On Sept. 25, however, Chinese Ambassador K. V. Wellington Koo in Washington gave the army a revised list of requirements, primarily weapons and ammunition. This voided all previous lists. So the U.S. army mission had to begin figuring all over again.

Anyway, on the new shopping list, the Chinese specified they wanted 60 per cent of the goods shipped to Shanghai, 10 per cent to Tsingtao and 30 per cent to Tientsin. On Oct. 4 the Chinese asked the Treasury to transfer to the army another $37,000,000. Goods began to move at last. U.S. navy transports were used, so as to give the Chinese the benefits of free transportation. The first ship left the west coast Nov. 9, the second Nov. 21, the third Dec. 16 and a fourth on Feb. 19.

EARLY KNOWLEDGE

The first boat was unloaded at Shanghai and Tsingtao late in November, as ordered. On Dec. 6, however, the Chinese notified the U.S. government that all future shipments should be made to the port of Keelung, on the island of Formosa.

This date may be important. Though Tientsin did not fall until mid-January and Shanghai until the end of May, as early as December the Nationalist government had apparently given up any hope of holding the mainland.

GLOBAL SURVEY

By DeWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press News Analyst

THE QUESTION of what, if any, further material aid the United States can usefully give to hard-pressed Nationalist China in her fight for survival against the Chinese Communist revolutionists has again become a burning subject of public debate.

Philip C. Jessup, ambassador-at-large, is heading a group of experts who are preparing an exhaustive report on past policies toward China, supposedly to clear the way for a fresh policy.

Thus far there has been no official indication of the trend of the projected diplomacy. Still, as a matter of speculation one would expect that the Chinese policy would be made to fit into a general far eastern program for halting the spread of communism in that vast area.

The big question is whether the Nationalists under Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek already have shot their bolt. On this point there is a wide difference of opinion in the United States.

The Red avalanche has continued to sweep southward until the temporary Nationalist capital of Canton is threatened with capture. Still, the imperturbable Chiang maintains that his followers are far from beaten and still can win, with outside material assistance.

Is Chiang gambling on the old adage that where there's life there's hope, or do conditions in China justify his judgment? That's one for American military chiefs to decide.

The Chinese puzzle would seem to be a part of the general problem of containing communism in Asia as a whole.

In considering this problem one envisages the creation of a series of positions which would form a huge arc about western and southern China, from Japan to India.

This arc includes Japan, the Philippines, French Indo-China, Siam, Malaya, the Dutch East Indies, Burma and India.

There is one important point to be considered in connection with the creation of such a defensive arc. It's solidarity most certainly would depend on satisfying the Nationalist ambitions of the native peoples concerned.

NO SHOOTING WAR

London (Ont.) Free Press

Arnold Toynbee, probably the world's most distinguished historian, says there will be no "shooting war" with Russia. We hope he is right. Allied vigor and power in the "cold war" may prevent any third war. That we are winning the struggle is apparent. But the possibilities of aerial warfare and the tremendous development of aircraft and weapons show that unless we do win the "cold war" we shall find ourselves immersed one day in what would certainly be Armageddon.

GROUNDS FOR REVENGE

Toronto Globe and Mail

Eighty-year-old Mr. Nathan Tarr of Stouffville, Ontario, stopped on the road to tie a shoelace and a groundhog charged him repeatedly with great determination. "I must have walked between the groundhog and its young," said Mr. Tarr.

Theorizing on this unusual attack, we can probably dismiss at once any thought of an allergy against the tying of shoelaces. We also hazard the opinion that the ground hog had nothing personal against Mr. Tarr at all. It was just that Mr. Tarr is a member of the human race, and the things the human race has said about groundhogs would merit massed revenge if groundhogs could ever get together.

PARTY'S 'OWN PAPER'

Ottawa Journal

Members of the British Columbia Progressive Conservative executive are reported as attributing the party's poor showing in their province to lack of newspaper support, and are said to be talking of a paper which, started and financed by the party, would "present the party's point of view."

What British Columbia Conservatives think about their poor showing and what should be done about it is, of course, their own business. We can't help suggesting to them, however, that if they are thinking about a party-financed and controlled newspaper as a way out of their troubles they would be wise to forget about it. Such a newspaper would not only lack authority; it would be without a future, with no party purse deep enough to sustain its life.

Nial Forster Claims Eastern Bride In St. Mary's Church

The eight-o'clock wedding ceremony in St. Mary's Church on Saturday linked families in this city and in Quebec.

Principals were Miss Jean Elizabeth Davidson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Arlington Davidson, Georgeville, Que., and Nial Burton Forster, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Forster, 1447 Hampshire Road.

The couple, married by Rev. A. E. Cameron, are motoring up-island and later will go to Vancouver to make their home.

Baskets of gladioli placed before the chancel rail formed the setting for the bride in her wedding gown of traditional satin. Fashioned on princess lines, the gown featured slender front panel, from sweetheart neckline to tip of the full skirt, slightly en train.

French illusion net misted the lovely gown, and the bride carried scarlet roses and gardenias in her crescent bouquet. Mr. Graeme Cantrell gave the bride in marriage.

Mrs. V. Powley, honor matron, wore sky-blue taffeta, and floral headdress en tone. In her bouquet were fragrant carnations.

Ian Burton Forster was best man for his brother.

Friends and relatives were received at the Forster home following the ceremony. The wedding cake, three-tiered, was cut with a sword belonging to the groom's grandfather, the late Maj.-Gen. J. B. Forster.

A lace cloth covered the table, and dahlias and sweet peas completed the decor.

Maj. W. A. R. Hadley gave the toast.

When Mr. and Mrs. Forster left on their wedding trip, the bride wore a smart cocoa brown suit with accessories en tone.

McIntyre-Jarvis Nuptial Rites

A wedding took place on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock in Metropolitan United Church, Rev. H. A. Watts, of Vancouver, officiating, when Isabel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Herbert Jarvis, 521 Northcott Avenue, was united in marriage to Mr. Hugh James McIntyre, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McIntyre, 108 Simcoe Street.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a dressmaker suit of aqua blue crepe with a white blouse, white gloves and a navy blue hat. Her corsage bouquet was composed of a gardenia surrounded by red rosebuds.

Matron of honor was Mrs. C. Keown, wearing a grey suit with a white blouse, pink hat and white gloves and a corsage bouquet of pink roses. Charles Keown was best men and ushers were Clem Such and David Wyber.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where the supper table was charmingly arranged with a table covered with a linen cloth inset with lace. A three-tier wedding cake, surrounded by tulle, and arranged with pink sweet peas held the place of honor. A. Buss proposed the toast to the bride.

For traveling up-Island, where the honeymoon will be spent, the bride donned a navy topcoat over her suit. On their return to Victoria the young couple will make their home in Suite 14, 1046 View Street.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were the bride's sister and niece, Mrs. Ann Harris and daughter, Marilyn of Seattle.

Well-Known Author In City

MRS. REUBEN MORGAN

"It was nothing but sheer stubborness that goaded me on to finish the book," declared H. H. Lynde, author of the best-seller "The Slender Reed," which has had such praise from critics throughout Canada, the United States and Great Britain.

The author, in private life now Mrs. Reuben Morgan of La Jolla, Calif., and her husband are spending a few weeks on Vancouver Island and are at present at the Empress Hotel.

Before her marriage last year Mrs. Morgan was Miss Helen Huntington of Spokane and has been a freqeunt visitor to Victoria for many years. In fact, she says "I started this Victoria habit about 25 years ago with my parents." They are Mr. and Mrs. David Lynde Huntington of Spokane.

BOOK WRITTEN HERE

An interesting feature of the new novel is the fact that a great part of it was written in Victoria, while the author was sojourning here last year and was occupying Mr. and Mrs. Michael Bell-Irving's house on Cookman Street, Oak Bay. She admits it was one of those pieces of work which she found exceedingly difficult and at the same time compelling enough to spur her on to the end.

After leaving here she went to New Hampshire, where she spent some time at the Macdowall Colony, a centre for artists, musicians, painters and writers who are engaged in creative work. The colony was founded by the widow of the late Edward Madowall, American composer and musician, to provide a congenial setting and accommodation for those engaged in their special line.

It was in 1944 that Mrs. Morgan wrote "Remember Matt Boyer." Now she has started another book.

"The Slender Reed" was not the title chosen by the author at the time of completing her best-seller. She had selected "No Safe Harbor" as being more indicative of the underlying thought and the message she was attempting to bring out. But the publishers did not agree.

Now the book is to be published in England, Germany and Sweden, and the original title is to be used.

Mrs. Morgan, though vitally interested and absorbed in her work always finds time to enjoy life. With a happy home, success crowning her writing endeavors and a warm welcome being accorded her by her Victoria friends she admits that "life can really be beautiful."

Quiet Wedding Ceremony Held

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church was the setting on Saturday evening at 7:30 p.m., when Mildred Dorothy, daughter of James Martin, 2570 Graham Street, became the bride of Homer Hartley Holt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Holt, 330 Beckley Avenue.

Bridal Bouquet Perfect Foil For Traditional Satin Gown

Red and white carnations in a shower bouquet complemented the bridal gown of heavy white satin and net worn by Miss Adrianna Catherine van Alphen, for her marriage Saturday evening, to Robert Edward Parkin, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Parkin, 1636 Ruby Road. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Edith van Alphen, 1711 Denman Street.

Rev. F. Pike performed the ceremony in St. Luke's Church, Cedar Hill Crossroads, decorated for the occasion with baskets of pink gladioli, white shasta daisies and white stocks. Pink rosebuds tied with white satin ribbons marked the guest pews.

The bride was given in marriage by Frank Baker. Her gown was fashioned with full skirt draped in pannier effect, fitted bodice featuring lily point sleeves and net yoke outlined with wide folds of satin. She wore her mother's full-length wedding veil of silk net embroidered with seed pearls, held with a halo headdress of white net, and her only ornaments were a two-strand necklace of pearls with earrings to match, a gift of her groom.

Senior bridal attendants were the sisters of the bride: Miss Betty van Alphen, maid of honor, in hydrangea blue moire taffeta, with a coronet of blue flowers in her hair and carrying yellow carnations and white stocks; Miss Sandrina van Alphen, bridesmaid, in yellow moire taffeta with yellow rosebud headdress and shower bouquet of blue delphiniums and white stocks.

Flower maid, four-year-old Joanne Halfhide, wore peach moire taffeta and carried a Colonial bouquet.

Hurley was soloist at the church and later at a reception held at the Oddfellows Hall, Douglas Street, where Mrs. Van Alphen and Mrs. Parkin stood with the bridal party under an archway of summer flowers and white bells, to receive the guests.

The bride's table, centred with the wedding cake, was placed beneath a large pink bell from which fell a cascade of pink streamers.

Later, the young couple left for Portland and Slineden Beach where the honeymoon will be spent, Mrs. Parkin traveling in a light navy blue suit with white satin hat and white accessories and wearing a corsage bouquet of pink rosebuds. On return they will live in Victoria.

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

NOW'S THE TIME TO 'WATER-COOL' ALL CHILDREN

This is the season when, literally, one wants nothing better than the privilege of wallowing in the bath-tub. It doesn't make much difference how often the children take a bath or stand under the sprinkler or go wading. They all add up to a temporary but refreshing coolness.

Even the tiny baby needs more than its cleansing bath each day. Not because it is dirty—perish the thought—but because water evaporating on its silky skin lowers the body temperature and is a grateful relief to its hot stickiness.

It is just as effective to use a sponge bath as to put the baby in the tub. Let the baby lie comfortably on the bed on a wet-resistant pad and dip a wash cloth into a pan of tepid water. Sponge of the skin and let it dry in the air. Then powder with a thin film of talcum in the groins, under the arms and around baby's neck. Not too much, as chunks of powder can be irritating when they become moist and cling to baby's skin.

To add a tablespoon of alcohol, or even some fragrant cologne to the pan of water will increase its cooling powers. If the baby has prickly heat in the warmer areas of the skin, add a tablespoon of baking soda to the pan of water, or a handful of laundry starch. Either, if allowed to dry on the skin, will form a soothing coat for its roughness.

Older children can have a hay-day during hot weather. A tub can be placed in the back yard and filled to the brim with water and they can wade or stand in that and do their own sponging.

There are rubber tubs, which can be inflated and have puffy edges on which children can sit and dabble their feet in the water it holds. These are nice additions to the back yard equipment for small children.

The garden hose is a life-saver during the hot weather. With the sprinkler turned on and the children dressed in bathing suits or just shorts, they can caper and run in and out of the cold water, and scream, and get themselves cool enough to be able to lie down happily and sleep, when sleep time comes.

Our leaflet No. 11 "Common Summer Annoyances," brings you some help for bites and burns and prickly heat, etc. It may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

Girl Guides, Girl Scouts Discuss Problems In Camp

MUSKEGON, Mich. (AP) — Girl guides of Canada and girl scouts of the United States got together Saturday with girl scouts from Central and South America and compared notes on teen-age dating.

Gloria D'Ornellas of Trinidad said that in her country unchaperoned dates are permitted only for girls over 19.

Canadian, United States and Alaska girls groaned in unison when Lilly Vorbeck, 17-year-old girl guide from Quito, Ecuador, explained:

"In my country you never kiss a boy until you know you are going to marry him."

"I can't imagine what it would be like to have my parents or grandparents coming out on a date with me and my boy friend," said 18-year-old Joan McMillan, a Toronto girl guide. "But neither can our guides from Latin America imagine what unchaperoned dates would be like."

The discussion was one of a series now being held at the girl scout western hemisphere encampment in Manistee National Forest where 83 guides and scouts from countries in North and South America have been camping together.

The meeting ends Aug. 12.

Member Britain's Young Farmers' Club Week-end Visitor

Miss Mary McCombie, right, pictured with Mr. F. C. Wasson, provincial dairy commissioner; Mrs. Wasson and Mrs. Stella Gummow, superintendent of Women's Institutes in British Columbia.

Using the same method of personnel exchange between countries that has proved successful in the teaching profession, 12 members of the Young Farmers' Clubs of Britain have come to the United States this year to study dairying and farm methods in that country. The same number of young people from United States 4-H Clubs have crossed to Britain.

Miss Mary McCombie, 22-year-old British farmerette, is the only one of the 12 young Britons—eight young women and four young men chosen from England, Wales, Scotland and Ireland—who has had the opportunity to visit Canada, even briefly.

Her reason—the fact that a brother, Dr. F. McCombie, is a member of the provincial health department with headquarters in Victoria.

A sample tester and laboratory steward for the National Milk Testing Service in Aylesbury, Buckinghamshire, Miss McCombie arrived in the United States in May. She visited Massachusetts and Washington, D.C., spent several weeks in a national camp and then traveled by way of the southern states and California to her assignment in the State of Washington. Since then she has been visiting various dairy farms in that state, taking notes on different methods used so that she will be able, when she returns to Britain in the autumn, to lecture on what she has seen and heard.

The young farmerette, who served four years in the Women's Land Army during the war and later, studied agriculture at the National Institute of Research, at Reading, was met at the boat Saturday morning by Dr. McCombie and Mrs. Gummow.

With Mr. and Mrs. Wasson and Mrs. Gummow, she toured the Saanich Peninsula on Saturday, visiting the famed milk parlor on the Burgess Farm, the T. Raper Farm where the finest herd of Holsteins on Vancouver Island is to be found, and several women's institute centres.

Sunday was spent with her brother, and this morning Miss McCombie, accompanied by Mrs. Gummow, left by plane for Vancouver, where a tour of Fraser Valley farms has been arranged. From there she is returning to the State of Washington to continue her exchange work.

Today's Recipe

BAKED MEAT LOAF

These fine warm days are luring the housewife to the sunny outdoors and now is the time to dispense with the chore of always-a-hot-meal and to have something on hand which will entail a minimum of effort in meal-getting.

You can prepare this in the morning and have it all ready if the family suggests a picnic supper or a cool salad meal at home.

Two pounds of ground beef, a slice or two of bacon or ham, four cups of soft bread crumbs soaked in enough milk to completely absorb the liquid, one medium sized onion chopped fine, one tablespoon salt, one-third teaspoon pepper, one teaspoon dry mustard, one tablespoon finely chopped parsley, a dash of poultry dressing and celery salt, one egg slightly beaten. Combine all ingredients so that it will form a loaf and place in a roasting pan. Spread generously with baking fat and sprinkle with crumbs, place in a very hot oven, and leave until it is well browned. Then reduce the heat to 350 and continue cooking the loaf, basting frequently for about half to three-quarters of an hour longer.

To Marry Again

NEW YORK (UP)—Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., 34, will marry socialite Miss Suzanne Perrin, 28, here shortly after the adjournment of Congress, it was announced today.

Mrs. Lee James Perrin said her daughter would wed the son of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and the late President probably in August or September after he has completed his duties in Washington.

Mrs. Perrin officially announced the engagement, which has been rumored since Roosevelt was divorced by the former Ethel duPont of the Delaware manufacturing family last May 21. Both the Roosevelts and the Perrins had denied the engagement.

Roosevelt, considered the political heir of hir father, declined to comment on the engagement. He said he felt his personal life "was not a matter of public record."

Dorothy Dix

Dear Dorothy Dix—I am engaged to marry a banker whose secretary I am. If I marry him he will hire a new secretary in my place and I am afraid he may fall in love with her as he has with me. Shall I keep my position or marry him? GRETA.

Answer—I'll say that the riddle of the lady or the tiger was easy to solve compared to whether a secretary shall marry her boss or continue to boss him as his secretary. But perhaps all secretaries are not so fascinating as you are or perhaps your fiancee may not be such an easy mark for the arts and wiles of a secretary as you think he is. At any rate if I were you I would marry him and pick out his next secretary. Something old and sour and crabbed with stringy hair and a snub nose and false teeth.

That, with knowing that you are wise to the ways of employers and secretaries, should keep your husband walking the strait and narrow path.

Politicians Lash At Allies As German Elections Near

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—West German political leaders are abusing the Western Allies and almost ignoring the Communists in their drive for votes in the Aug. 14 elections.

Charges of deceit and arrogance, of greed and repression are hurled at Britain, the United States and France.

Candidates centre their fire on the Allies' security program, intended to prevent future German aggression. Singled out for attacks are the dismantling of German factories which produced war materials, the International Ruhr Authority and the Military Security Board. The issues of Germany's territorial losses in the east and west also are raised.

In effect, the Germans are serving notice that the anti-Communist parties will present a solid front against many of the Allies' basic policies when the German federal republic is formed.

This republic will be made up of the 11 states in the British, United States and French zones. A parliament of 400 members will be chosen in the voting Aug. 14. The parliament, in turn, will name the president and prime minister (chancellor), who will organize the government.

The American Military Government's German-language newspaper Neue Zeitung said "some sort of a unity front has been established, reaching from the very left to the very right of the parties."

"Here, as in all other such fronts, the unifying factor is the fact that all are against something," it said. "The German parties are unified in their criticisms of the occupation powers."

'Exercise Eagle' Begins This Week

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian troops take off this week on the biggest peacetime military exercise in Canadian history.

Known as "Exercise Eagle," the manoeuvres will involve parachute landing of troops along the strategic Alaska Highway. R.C.A.F. fighter squadrons as well as the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, first of three battalions to be moulded into an airborne brigade, will take part.

It will be followed next February by a joint exercise of Canadian and United States troops along the highway, running from Dawson Creek, B.C., to Alaska.

Both exercises are designed, in part, to test the defences of the highway, which is becoming an important factor in joint Canadian-American planning for defence.

U.S. troops are already moving into place to start preparations for the February exercise.

Minister Proposes Australia Redivision

MELBOURNE (Reuter)—Immigration Minister Arthur Calwell today called for a redivision of Australia into 20 or 30 states, instead of the present seven. Present boundaries had been devised by the Colonial Office in London, but the time had come when Australian development and her immigration policy required that she "go forward under her own momentum," he said.

Police Search 8 Men At Herbert Funeral

NEW YORK (AP) — Eight men attending Sunday the funeral of Edward "Neddie" Herbert, slain aide to Hollywood gambler Mickey Cohen, were removed from a crowd of 500 mourners by police and told to "keep moving."

Six of the men were known to come from Brooklyn and two from Hollywood, police said. All were searched.

Herbert, who had a long record of arrests in New York before he went to Hollywood, was fatally wounded July 20 in a shotgun ambush in Hollywood. Cohen and three others were injured. Herbert's body was flown to New York after he died in a California hospital last Thursday.

Newcombe Gets First Victory Over Cards

DON NEWCOMBE, big Negro righthander of Brooklyn Dodgers, has something to smile about today—he's turned the tables on his chief tormentors—St. Louis Cardinals.

Newcombe, solidly cuffed in three previous encounters with the rollicking Red Birds, clipped the National League league-leaders 4 to 2 yesterday to snap the Cards' nine-game winning streak.

Newcombe blanked the Cards until the ninth when singles by Rom Northey, Glen Nelson and Lou Klein plus Duke Snider's first error of the season, allowed the Cards to score twice. The victory cut the Cards' advantage over the Dodgers to 1½ games.

Meanwhile, New York Yankees made some headway in the American League race, stretching their lead to four games over the second-place Cleveland Indians.

The Yanks split a twin bill with Chicago White Sox, taking the opener 3 to 2 and dropping the nightcap 2 to 1 in 10 innings. The Indians were blanked 3 to 0 by Mickey McDermott and the Red Sox in Boston.

WIN IN NINTH

Ed Lopat bested young Billy Pierce in the first game, the Yanks pulling it out in the ninth on Johnny Lindell's home and Tommy Henrich's run-scoring single. Luke Appling slammed a two-run homer with two down in the 10th of the finale to give lefty Bob Kuzava the nod over Duane Pillette.

McDermott scattered eight hits and fanned seven in out-pitching Gene Bearden. Dom DiMaggio of the Sox collected one hit to extend his consecutive game-hitting streak to 27.

Detroit Tigers made it three straight shutouts over Philadelphia Athletics as Ted Gray and Fred Hutchinson pitched the Bengals to 3 to 0 and 6 to 0 triumphs respectively in the Quaker City. Gray yielded eight hits and Hutch five.

New York Giants butchered Cincinnati Reds 10 to 0 and 9 to 0, confining their scoring to three innings. The polo grounders scored 10 runs in the first two innings of the opener with home Mueller and Hank Thompson featuring the bombardment. The triumphs elevated the Giants into fourth place, one percentage point ahead of Philadelphia Phils.

Incogs, Albions Register Wins In Cricket Fixtures

Matches in the Victoria and District Cricket League Saturday saw Incogs and Albions mark up victories.

With Reg Wenman knocking up 77 not out the Incogs had little trouble winning from the Ex-R.A.F. Incogs declared their innings at 141 for seven wickets and dismissed their opponents for 50. Jagger was top batsman for Ex-R.A.F. with 11. Reg Wenman took three wickets for only four runs.

Albions won from Cowichan 105 to 94. Winners were paced by Jack Shanks with 38 runs. Rowe contributed 17, while Heppenstall was high bat for Cowichan with 16.

Perry with five wickets for 33 runs was top bowler for the Albions.

BEAVERS WIN

Hudson Bay Beavers defeated Seattle Epicures, 5 to 0, in a women senior A exhibition softball game at Nanaimo Sunday. Joyce Richmond allowed five hits in banking the visitors.

Action In Highland Games

Senior Ball Title At Stake Tonight; Gasmen Whip Navy

Pitzer and Nex almost clinched the Senior Amateur Baseball League title yesterday as a result of their close 10 to 8 decision over the last-place Navy nine, but the real test comes tonight when they stack up against the runner-up Boosters, who are only a game behind.

Tonight's game will be played at Beacon Hill, starting at 6.30 and is the last scheduled tilt for each club. A win for the Gasmen would give them the title, but a victory for Boosters would force a two-way tie for the honors with a possible three-way tie later as Eagles have two games remaining on their schedule.

Navy were only able to pick up four safeties off the offerings of righthander Cliff Hume, but they took advantage of his wildness to score eight runs, four of which came in the ninth inning. Hume struck out 20 batters, but issued an even dozen walks, was charged with three wild pitches and hit two batsmen.

TIMELY TRIPLE

Winners pounced on starter Tom Harnum for three runs in the opening frame when catcher Del Bertrand clouted a triple with the bases jammed. Tony Bishop took over when Harnum failed to put a man out, and hurled a creditable game, giving up seven hits, taking 14 on strikes and walking four.

Short score follows:	R.	H.	E.
Pitzer and Nex	10	9	3
Navy	8	4	5

Hume and D. Bertrand; Harnum, Bishop (1) and DeVought.

Chinese Students To Meet Loggers In Final

It will be Chinese Students against Timber Service in the best-of-three final for the island senior A men's zone softball championship.

The Students won their way into the final bracket yesterday afternoon at Central Park by edging Brentwood Aces, 2 to 1, in the tilt of the three-game series for their second straight victory.

John Furmston of Brentwood was the hard luck loser. Furmston turned in his second no-hit game of the season for the suburban nine but two unearned runs in the sixth inning caused his defeat.

Chow opened the sixth frame by drawing a base on balls. He went to second on a wild pitch and scored a minute later when shorstop Frank Kilshaw booted Stan Tenning's ground ball. Tenning was sacrificed to third by Chan and scored the second run on an outfield fly by T. Derr.

STOPS RALLY

Held scoreless until the ninth inning, Brentwood got to Tenning for three hits and one run, only to see Tenning force Brian Sluggett to ground out with the tieing and winning runs in position to score. Singles by Kilshaw, G. Sluggett and Yardley accounted for the Brentwood tally.

Until the ninth Tenning had allowed the Aces only three hits.

Tonight Brentwood will meet Bluebird Cabs in a league game. Zone playoffs will open Tuesday night with Chinese meeting the loggers at Central Park. Second game is billed for Thursday with the third and deciding clash, if necessary, Sunday.

Short score follows:	R.	H.	E.
Brentwood	1	6	1
Chinese	[illegible]	[illegible]	2

Furmston and J. Turner; Tenning and Chow.

Lawn Bowling

P. Johnson's rink, comprised of H. Philbrook, Mrs. N. Tea and Mrs. D. Wilson of the Victoria West Lawn Bowling Club, won the Barnard Cup at the Victoria West Greens Saturday by defeating A. Mitchell, S. Madalon, Mrs. W. Webster and Mrs. E. Evans of the Lake Hill Club, 16-7. Consolation winners were F. Jenkins, Mrs. N. Wallace and Mrs. N. Findlay.

A. Findlay and C. Fairfall of the Victoria West Club won the Fairall Cup by coming from behind to defeat G. Asquith and L. Slade on the 21st end.

Hollywood Sweeps Two From Portland To Gain In Race

Sacramento Solons, who have been creeping toward the top of the Coast League ladder, have temporarily lost their footing and for awhile, anyway, the Hollywood stars can start breathing again.

While the Twinks were sweeping a Sunday twin bill from Portland, the Solons were absorbing a double drubbing from the tail end Los Angeles Angels, all of which leave Hollywood 6½ games atop Sacramento in Monday's standings.

Hollywood whipped Portland, 12 to 2, in the opener and took the finale, 5 to 2. Los Angeles larrupped the Solons, 7 to 1 and 3 to 0.

At Oakland, the Acorns presented a study of organized violence in trouncing Seattle, 13 to 7, in their opener, but the Rainiers bounced back for a 6 to 4 triumph in the afterpiece.

San Diego moved into fourth place via a split with San Francisco. The Seals fashioned an effortless 13 to 0 victory in the first game. The Padres took the second 4 to 1.

Snead's 67 Cinches Western Golf Crown

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Sam Snead Sunday fired a five-under-par 67 to give him a 72-hole total of 268 and victory in the Western Open golf championship.

Snead finished four strokes ahead of Cary Middlecoff, the United States Open champion from Memphis, Tenn., who carded a seven-under-par 65 to finish with 272 for second money.

Knotted one stroke behind him were Chick Harbert, Detroit; Jimmy Demaret, Ojai, Calif., and Lloyd Mangrum, Chicago.

First place was worth $2,000 to Snead. Middlecoff earned $1,900 for second.

Two New Players Join A's For Tough Road Trip

As the Victoria Athletics were off on a road trip that will see the club run up against the same succession of double-headers that played havoc with the pacesetting Yakima Bears and runnerup Vancouver Caps last week, two new players checked in with the club. Shortstop Arnold Johnson joined the team here Sunday while outfielder Joe Morjoseph reported to Manager Earl Bolyard at Salem today.

Athletics closed out one of their most successful home stands Saturday by splitting the final two games with Yakima. In the afternoon Joe Blankenship returned to his last season's form in blanking the Bears 5 to 0, while at night the visitors edged the A's 2 to 1 in a heart-breaker for pitcher Pete Vucurevich. The big right hander allowed six hits and didn't walk a man.

Johnson, slated to take over from Russ Walseth at shortstop, comes to the club from the now disbanded Manchester Club of the New England League. An experienced class B infielder, he should fit in well. Walseth left with the A's for Salem but is expected to leave for home shortly. He is leaving the Victoria team at his own request. Walseth doesn't want to risk further injury to his left knee and endanger his basketball coaching career.

POWER HITTER

Morjoseph, a power-hitting outfielder, has been purchased outright by the Athletics. The big fellow boasts an imposing hitting record. Playing with Dayton in the class A Central League last year he appeared in 117 games and had a season batting average of .310. He drove in 106 runs and slashed out 31 home runs, 18 doubles and three triples.

To make room for Morjoseph on the roster the A's will have to cut loose one of their present four outfielders.

Business manager Reg Patterson announced today that Joe Devine, chief Pacific Coast scout for the New York Yankees, will join the Victoria club in Salem and probably remain with the team for a week.

In blanking Yakima Blankenship gave up only three hits and faced 29 batters, two over the minimum. He got the advantage of five double plays. Only one Yakima base runner advanced as far as second. Jo-Jo contributed to his own victory with a line drive home run in the seventh.

Drawing power of comedian Al Schacht was well demonstrated at night when over 5,000 jammed the park. It was the season's biggest crowd. Schacht worked for half an hour and received a big hand.

COSTLY ERROR

An unearned run in the fifth inning cost Vucurevich the game as he outpiched the veteran southpaw Larry Powell. Yakima broke through for its first run in the fourth on Edo Vanni's single, a fielder's choice and Ray Orteig's long double to the left field corner. In the fifth with two away and Dick Briskey on third, first sacker Vic Buccola bobbled Leroy Patton's infield roller and the run scored. Unfortunate part was that second sacker Gil McDougald was all set to handle the ball for what would have been an easy toss out.

Athletics scored their only run in the ninth. Powell gave up successive walks to pinch-hitter Ray Jacobs and Russ Walseth and they were moved along by Buccola's sacrifice. Balassi grounded to shortstop scoring Jacobs but Walseth was run down trying to make third. McDougald forced Balassi to end the game.

The large crowd got into a wild mood in the seventh inning when catcher Bob Day was called out on a close play at third base. Fans showered the field with rubbish and kept it up until Umpire Bill Husband threatened to forfeit the game.

GAMES SUNDAY

In games Sunday Wenatchee two-timed Bremerton's faltering Bluejackets 2 to 1 and 9 to 1. The day's other doubleheader saw Spokane and Tacoma split. The Indians edged the home club 2 to 1 in the opener but Tacoma took the second 9 to 1.

Harlem Trotters Play Baseball Here Wednesday

The world-famous Harlem Globetrotters baseball team will make their annual good-will visit to the city Wednesday when they stack up against the local all-star team, made up of players in the Senior Amateur Baseball League in a double bill at Athletic Park. Games will be played at 3 and 8.

Although more widely known through their prowess on the basketball floor, the Harlemites, who are only in their fourth year as a baseball squad, are rapidly building up an equally famous record.

In last year's series of exhibition games across the continent, the club built up an impressive record of 119 wins against only 26 setbacks. In addition to serious baseball, the squad also dishes out with a fair amount of clowning and zany antics for the benefit of the customers. Clowning is handled chiefly by Ed Hamman, famous sport comedian and a traveler with the Trotters.

Heading the visitors will be Paul Hardy, well-known catcher-manager who is reputed to be one of the finest receivers in baseball. Other members of the colored nine include: Sam Wheeler, Parnell Woods, Jesse Williams, Jesse Douglas, Felix McLaurin, Zell Miles, Herb Simpson, Othello Strong, Johnny Gogdell, Roger Pierre, Winslow Means, Laymon Ramsey and Joe Bankhead.

Bailey Cinches C.I.L. Shield At Victoria Gun Club

Although there are several months of competition left, marksman Ted Bailey Sunday cinched possession of the C.I.L. Shield, sought by skeet-shooting members of the Victoria Gun Club in action at the Albert Head Road grounds.

He registered his seventh-leg victory in this year-long competition with a 23x25 count.

Shooters yesterday found the heat waves rising from the sea in the background bad for marksmanship.

Roger Montieth, club secretary, polished off 21 of 24 targets in the Zaccarelli doubles trap trophy to win that leg. Ernie Todd scored a leg win this competition when he bested Bill Dalziel in a shootoff made necessary from a tied score at the last meet.

Clarke Atchison muffed only a single bird in 25 to win the leg of the Colonist Cup at the trap posts, while Ernie Hazenfratz and Henry Pottinger wound up all even with identical scores of 22x25 in the H. A. Humber trap handicap trophy leg competition. They will shoot off later.

The father and son team of Dave and Henry Pottinger won the buddy shoot.

J. Redden Winner Of Quoits Title

J. Redden was the winner of the Vancouver Island quoits championship Saturday in the meet held at Macdonald Park in conjunction with the annual Highland games.

Tom Alexander placed second, with D. McCaig and S. Watt third and fourth.

Official scorer was Joseph English of Nanaimo.

Appling Only Four Games Off Record

NEW YORK (AP) — The veteran Luke Appling needs to play only four more games to break Rabbit Maranville's all-time major league record of 2,153 games at shortstop.

Barring injury and postponements, the 40-year-old Chicago White Sox infielder will tie the mark Thursday night in Philadelphia and beat it Friday at Washington.

Esquimalt Meat Wins Opening Games Of Colwood Finals

Esquimalt Meat Market took a two-game lead in the Colwood and District Senior B Men's Softball League best-of-five series Sunday by defeating Sooke 12 to 5 and 7 to 4, in the split twin bill.

Third game is scheduled for Hampton Road Wednesday with fourth and fifth games, if necessary, scheduled for Friday and Sunday.

In yesterday's first game at Hampton Road, Esquimalt pounded out 16 hits including a home run by Herb Bate. Fred Lech was the winning pitcher.

Don Duncan hurled the meat dealers to victory in the second at Sooke. Herb Bate clouted his second home run of the day while brother Cliff Bate added another round-tripper.

Tam o'Shanter's Gold Campaign Opens Friday

CHICAGO (AP) — Golf reaches the realm of the fantastic this week with presentation of the Tam O'Shanter $66,200 variety show.

The gold rush starts Friday and continues merrily for 10 days.

In addition to being the world's richest golf outing, it is the longest, has the biggest field (about 500), and, without a doubt, is the screwiest.

All the top-notchers will be there. All, that is, but South Africa's Bobby Locke, the 1947 Tam winner who has been expelled by the United States P.G.A. for tournament contract breaking.

Promoter George S. May, club president and former Bible salesman, offers seven tournaments in one. Running the first five days are the All-American men's pro tourney, the All-American men's amateur and the All-American women's open.

Then starts the world championships of golf (promoter May's world).

On a 72-hole medal basis, these tournaments fall into four classifications—men pros, men amateurs, women pros and women amateurs.

The All-American men's pro meet carries a top prize of $3,333 with $2,3333 for second place.

The world champion among the men pros will be weighted down with a cool $10,000. The runner-up will get $7,000.

Bucky Walters Draws Suspension, $150 Fine

CINCINNATI (AP) — Bucky Walters, manager of Cincinnati Reds, Sunday was suspended for five days by Ford Frick, president of the National League, as a result of an altercation with umpire Lee Ballanfant in the Reds' game Saturday with New York Giants.

Bucky, drawing the first suspension of his major league career, also was fined $150. The suspension was effective immediately and Redleg coach Luke Sewell filled in as manager for yesterday's doubleheader between the Reds and New York Giants.

Peanuts Lowrey, Cincinnati left fielder, who also figured in the altercation, was fined $50 by Frick.

This dispute arose over the final out of the game which the Reds lost 8 to 7.

With two out in the ninth inning, the bases loaded and the Reds trailing by one run, first sacker Ted Kluszewski grounded to shortstop Bill Rigney.

Rigney turned to toss to second baseman Henry Thompson for a forceout at second and, when he saw Thompson was not covering the base, dove into the bag himself, feet first. Lowrey, who had been on first, also was sliding into the bag and Ballanfant called him out.

Walters and Lowrey immediately began the protest which led to the suspension and fines.

Oster Hurls 3 Games As Reds Take Title

Red's Service won the Vancouver Island women's senior B zone softball playoffs over the week-end, defeating Courtenay in the odd game of a best-of-three series at Courtenay.

The city champions had no easy time at the up-island centre as they were forced to the limit before annexing the title.

Red's won the first game Saturday night in a slugfest, 17 to 16. Courtenay squared the series in the Sunday afternoon game, 3 to 2, and Red's came back to take the third and deciding game, 13 to 10, in the evening.

Ruth Oster was the hero of the series for Red's. She hurled the opening game Saturday night and although hit freely went the route.

Oster came right back in the second game Sunday only to lose the one-run thriller to Hodgits of the up-island squad. Oster allowed Courtenay only three hits while Red's were only able to manage two singles from Hodgits.

CALLED AGAIN

In the final game, Barbara Bone started for Red's but was chased from the hill in the first inning when the up-islanders scored four runs. Oster was again called into battle with nobody out in the first inning. She retired the side and went the rest of the way, being in trouble only in the fifth inning when Courtenay scored four runs.

Red's counted three runs in the first, three in the second and five in the third, adding the clinching markers in the sixth.

Red's will now meet the Vancouver champions in the next round.

'Y' Sprinters Sweep Highland Games Events

Coach Bruce Humber's "Y" squad met little opposition in Saturday's track and field events on the annual Highland Games program at Macdonald Park and walked off with majority of the championships but two Vancouver weight men, Rod McIsaac and Bob Johnson, ended in a tie for the grand aggregate and joint possession of the Dr. Hunter Trophy.

McIsaac compiled three firsts for his total of nine point while Johnston, defending champion, placed second in four events and third in another.

McIsaac won the 56-pound weight throw, the caber toss and the 16-pound wire handle hammer throw. Johnston gained his runner-up honors in the 16-pound shot, won by John Pavelich, the 16-pound hammer throw, the 56-pound weight and the cabre tossing. He was third in the discuss.

DOUBLE WINNERS

Team captain Tarry Mitchell of the "Y" garnered two firsts in the sprints, winning both the 100 and 220-yard dashes from Roger Wellman of the Vancouver Arctic Club, and running the anchor leg on the winning "Y" 440-yard relay team.

Young Bob Hutchison, who placed fourth in the sprints in the recent British Empire Games trials, captured the under 19 years 100 and 220-yard sprints for a double victory. Don Wilson made his return to active competition a successful one by winning the high jump.

Another double winner for the local cinder club was young Gary Pynn in the under 17 100 and 220-yard sprints.

The Victoria Police Tug Of War team which had defeated the Vancouver team at Vancouver earlier in the year went down to a surprising setback in this event as the mainland squad won in two straight pulls.

BICYCLE RACES

Something new was added to the program in form of men's and women's bicycle races. Nancy Beecher of Victoria captured the women's one-mile race with Jessie Slater second, while Millman of Vancouver closed with a terrific spurt to win the men's two-mile affair from B. Dingley of Victoria.

Ernie Spalding Wins First Main Event Of Auto Races

They had their troubles at Langford Speedway auto races Saturday night, but no one was hurt in two spine-shivering crashes.

Top winner of the evening was Ernie Spaulding of Seattle who, in the No. 9 car, won his first main event of the season.

He had no opposition to speak of on the last three laps of the 30-lap contest, but up to then he was pressed.

Therein lies the tale of one of the two crashes which had the fans on their feet.

Digger Caldwell in the No. 36 car and Jack Spaulding in the No. 1 were battling it out for second place on the heels of Ernie. Going into the south turn they locked wheels and the two cars careened across the track in a wild spin.

Don Olds, Seattle, in the No. 96 car, missed the mix-up and went on to finish second in the race. But he was nearly a lap behind the winner when the checkered flag dropped.

Dave Cooper in the No. 8 car finished third to mark his return to the races after an absence of several weeks.

The other accident involved one car only and came in the first heat race. The driver, George Haslam; the car, No. 12.

Haslam had an argument with the throttle of his car on the south turn. The throttle won, forcing pilot Haslam to "let her go." The car piled through the fence, taking down a goodly piece before stopping out in the knot-hole gang's reserved seat section.

Cooper drove the fastest time in the time trials with a 17.67.

Caldwell won the Helmet Dash, was third in the first heat race and first in the second heat race.

Ernie Spaulding was first in the first heat race, and brother Jack was second.

Second to Caldwell in the second heat race was Cooper, with Bung Eng in his sleek-looking No. 7 car third.

Olds won the third heat race in a good race which saw Harold Brown finish second and Bob Simpson third.

Eng won the fourth heat race, with Buck Roger second and Eddie Kostenuk third.

His Brother Runs Fifth At Longacres; Blue Tiger Winner

SEATTLE (AP)—C. J. Sebastian's Blue Tiger won the $5,000 added Seattle Handicap at Longacres Sunday when a claim of foul was allowed against Frank Brewster's Two and Twenty, first across the finish line.

The board of stewards ruled that Two and Twenty bore in and shut off Blue Tiger on the rail going into the stretch. The protest was lodged by Blue Tiger's jockey, Delmar Jones.

Two and Twenty covered the mile and one-sixteenth in 1.45 4-5, only two-fifths of a second away from the track record. Blue Tiger finished a length behind. Both horses are owned by Seattle men.

The winner and favorite in the wagering returned $4.60, $3.50 and $2.40. Two and Twenty, moved back to second place by the Stewards, paid $5.60 and $3. Neil Campbell's Pagan Star paid $2.40 for show.

His Brother, owned by James Fee of Victoria finished fifth in the seven-horse field.

Talbert Captures Final From Gonzales

SOUTHAMPTON, N.Y. (AP)—Billy Talbert of New York upset national champion Richard (Pancho) Gonzales of Los Angeles Sunday to win the 59th annual Meadow Club tennis championship. The scores were 6-4, 5-7, 3-6, 7-5, 6-2.

His back to the wall when he trailed two sets to one and 0-4 in the fourth set, Talbert rallied to expel the defending titleholder.

Talbert and Frank Mulloy, the national doubles champions, won the doubles title by defeating Gonzales and Hugh Stewart of Los Angeles, 6-4, 6-4, 6-4.

Chapman Apologizes For Defeating Farley

SAINT JOHN, N.B. (CP)—A fellow who hates to beat his opponents carried back the Canadian amateur golf championship to the United States Saturday.

He is grinning, gum-chewing Dick Chapman, of Osterville, Mass., who defeated Phil Farley of Toronto in a tense struggle that went two extra holes. Then he told Phil, a long-time friend, he was sorry to do it.

The 38-year-old American stock broker's victory retained for the United States the championship held for the last two years by Frank Stranahan of Toledo.

Chapman, United States amateur champion in 1940, did it the hard way, making a brilliant recovery in the afternoon 18-hole round of the 36-hole match. He squared the match at the 36th and won at the 38th.

It was a disheartening defeat for Farley, in the final for the second time in his career. At Ottawa 12 years ago the 37-year-old Torontonian lost out to Sandy Somerville, of London, Ont., 2 and 1.

Farley, playing a fine short game and showing no signs of weakening, ran a two-hole lead of the morning 18-hole round into five up at the 25th.

Then Chapman put on the pressure with a remarkable display of sub-par golf.

Sherwin Top Scorer In Rifle Shooting

Ponder Comes From Away Back To Win

CHICAGO (AP) — Calumet Farm's Ponder Saturday came from last place to win the $87,750 Arlington classic.

Seemingly hopelessly last at the half-mile post, 16 lengths behind, the plodding Ponder charged on to take the lead at the stretch turn in the 1¼-mile race. He flashed under the wire three lengths ahead of Admiral Lea, owned by Mrs. Ada L. Rice, Chicago.

In third place, two lengths back of Admiral Lea, came Isidor Bieber's Palestinian, which finished in the same spot in the Derby.

Ponder's Kentucky Derby winner returned $4.40, $2.80 and $2.20.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON Jr.

NEW YORK (AP) — Henry Swasey, for 29 years baseball coach at the U. of New Hampshire and currently manager of the Kentville, N.S., Wildcats, played six innings the other day when only seven of his players showed up at Amherst. He used a 13-year-old batboy to complete the team . . . Kentville won but Amherst protested because the winners used two ineligible players . . . The Buffalo Bills' quarterbacks practice with the aid of a metronome to perfect the timing of their plays . . . naturally that will make them click.

PIG-SCIN PATTER

Further words of football wisdom from stout Steve Owen: "Some people say we pass too much in pro football, but you have to have a good running game to make passes work and our percentage of completions shows they do work . . . The passing game still is fairly new and pass-defence has developed right along with it . . . The big difference is that in pro football the receivers know how to fake. Kids coming up from college are easy to cover because they don't know that . . . But take a fellow like Bill Swiacki. We work against him every day in practice and still we can't cover him; imagine what it must be like when you only see him once or twice a season . . . Why, Swiacki faked his own passer, Charlie Concerly, once last season . . . Conerly knew where Swiacki was supposed to go, but he faked so well Charlie was certain he wouldn't go there and threw to the other side."

St. Catharines Capture Aggregate At Canadian Henley

PORT DALHOUSIE, Ont. (CP)—Superiority in numbers and a couple of crack scullers paid off for the St. Catharines Rowing Club with its first team victory Saturday in the 67-year history of the Royal Canadian Henley regatta.

The Niagara district club, just a streetcar ride from the mile and 550-yard course on the Old Welland Canal, entered more than 200 oarsmen and scullers in the four-day Henley which drew a new high list of between 800 and 900 competitors. The 200-odd local watermen included the Murphy brothers, Greg and Frank, two of the biggest point-makers of the show.

When it all ended, St. Catharines had a whopping 313 point-total, 46½ more than runner-up Buffalo West Sides. And it was the Murphy kids, both under 19, who supplied the winning margin.

They made five appearances—four of them winners and the other a second place.

Joe Angyal, 32-year-old fireman and member of the New York Athletic Club, won the singles in a five-man field.

Canada Sends Juniors

OTTAWA (CP)—Ten players who distinguished themselves in the Canadian junior championships here last week have been named by the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association to represent Canada at the United States junior men's tournament at Kalamazoo, Mich.

The C.L.T.A. named Paul Wiley of Vancouver, who won the Canadian title Saturday, and Ray Page of Montreal, runner-up; four Toronto juniors, one from Quebec, and three Alberta players, Mike Jamieson, Don Macintosh and Don Anderson, all of Calgary.

Phil Harris Arrives For Fishing Holiday

Phil Harris, sun-tanned and smiling, is in town for the day.

Wearing a light suit, beige shirt, minus tie and his famous grin, he is one Hollywood celebrity who does not hide his light behind dark glasses and thinks the idea of people popping over to say "Hello" a very friendly habit.

But then he is a very friendly fellow.

Like any of the hundreds of American tourists in town today, the popular radio star was buying woollen sweaters in a Government Street store for his famous wife, Alice Faye, and their two children, all of whom star on the "Harris Faye Show."

"No, Alice did not come with me this time," he said with the usual trace of his "that's-what-I-like-about-the-south" drawl.

"My writers are with me and we plan a week's fishing holiday on the island. We will stay at the Qualicum Beach Hotel and go up to Campbell River for fishing."

Last here for a bond drive five years ago, Mr. Harris, who is soft-spoken off the air, made a number of friends with whom he will renew acquaintance.

"Sitting in the Empress this morning at breakfast a number of people we had met before came over to shake hands and say hello," he said. "I was very flattered."

Just in the city for the morning, Mr. Harris and his party left before noon for up-island. They will spend a week in and around Vancouver before returning to the United States.

Accompanying him are Ray Singer and Dick Chevillat, his writers; Al Newman, musical arranger, and Walter Scharf.

Saanich firemen put out a stubborn grass fire that covered one and a half acres at Blair and Shelbourne Streets Saturday afternoon.

Victoria's invitation to the Dominion Association of Fire Chiefs to hold their 1950 convention here will be considered at the Ottawa conference of the association, Mayor Percy George was advised today.

Sister Priscilla, Born In Victoria, Dies Here At 75

Sister Mary Priscilla, a native of Victoria, who joined the Order of St. Ann in 1897, died in Mount St. Mary Saturday morning, at the age of 75.

She was born Pauline Lyons in 1874 and began her teaching career in Vancouver. She served also at New Westminster, Kamloops and other British Columbia centres. She was director of boarding schools in a number of these districts for a time.

Sister Mary Priscilla turned to the nursing profession and served at St. Joseph's Hospital and Mount St. Mary here. She had been in charge of the T.B. Preventorium at the Indian Residential School at Mission, B.C., for the past five years.

She leaves a twin sister, Sister Mary Ethelreda in the Order of St. Ann; another sister, Mrs. W. E. Keyt of New Westminster, and a brother, Daniel Lyons of Seattle.

Requiem Mass will be said Tuesday morning at 8.30 from St. Ann's Academy Chapel.

A fine of $35 was imposed against David Joseph Brown, 3963 Quadra Street, by Magistrate A. I. Thomas in city police court today. He pleaded guilty to a charge of dangerous driving on Shelbourne Street, near North Dairy Road, on July 23. Constable A. Appleton told the court accused, without making a hand signal, cut into heavy traffic to make a left-hand turn. An accident was narrowly averted, the officer said.

Sunday Year's Hottest Day

Sunday was the warmest day so far this year. And in an effort to keep cool, Victorians took to the great outdoors.

The high temperature recorded at the Dominion Meteorological Observatory, atop Gonzales Heights, was 81. It should be noted, however, that the observatory benefits from a cooling breeze which comes across the Strait of Juan de Fuca.

Away from the waterfront, temperatures were considerably higher. In some districts, thermometers went close to the 90 mark.

Beaches and lakes drew tremendous crowds. Park attendance was good, too.

Beacon Hill Park, with its many shade trees, proved a gathering place for families without cars. For those with cars, Mount Douglas Park was a popular spot.

Many motorists found the best way to keep cool was to drive with all the windows open, so spent the day riding about the countryside.

Month's Sunshine 9 Hours Deficient

Although fine, sunny weather prevailed over the district for the better part of July, official statistics compiled today at the Dominion Meterological Station, Gonzales, revealed that Victorians did not receive their usual quota of sunshine for the month and received more than their share of rainfall.

Daily sunshine recorded over the 31-day period was 324 hours—over an average of 10 hours a day—but the usual July figure is 333 hours. Precipitation for the month was only .64 inch while the normal reading is .45 inch. Precipitation since the first of this year was still below average, however, officials reported. A total of 11.69 inches had been recorded up to July 31, which is 1.37 inches below normal.

Mean temperature reading during July was 59 degrees, one below normal. The last day of the month was also the hottest day when the thermometer climbed to 81 degrees. Month's low occurred on the second when the mercury read 46 degrees.

Thousands Of 'Glads' For Vancouver Show

The Vancouver Gladiolus Society seventh annual show in Chalmers Church auditorium, Vancouver, on Aug. 17 and 18, will draw thousands of spikes of this favorite summer flower, displayed singly, in two's, three's, baskets, vases and in many novel and decorative modes. A special display will feature individual florets of the latest and most beautiful varieties.

The gladiolus has a color range greater than that of any other flower—from the softest of pastel tones to the most brilliant and vivid of the spectrum.

G. S. Ketcheson is the show secretary.

Beverage Companies Claim Inequalities In Trades Licenses

Four Victoria beverage companies, in a letter to City Hall, today protested apparent discrimination against them in application of the city's trades licenses by-law.

The companies claimed inequalities had been brought about by the recent amendments to the by-laws raising the cost of trades licenses and said these needed "urgent remedial action."

"Only by curtailing profits to a marginal level have the bottlers of carbonated beverages been able to maintain their prices at prewar level, and this during a period of steadily rising costs," the companies wrote.

They claimed the 400 per cent increase in the cost of their trades licenses (from $75 a year to $300) was far in excess of increases asked from other types of licensees, and was felt by the beverage companies "to be discriminatory and excessive."

Premier Returning From East Tuesday

Premier Byron Johnson is expected to return to his offices in the Legislative Buildings Tuesday or Wednesday from a trip to Ottawa on government business.

The Premier is meeting Prime Minister St. Laurent today. During his visit in Ottawa he has discussed financing of extensions and improvements to the P.G.E. and housing.

Mr. Johnson left Victoria on July 21 and is flying back to the coast. Accompanying him is his private secretary, Percy Richards.

The Premier's partner in the B.C. Coalition, Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb, also is in the east on government matters. He left two days after the Premier and is expected to return next week-end.

Sending 2 Delegates

The municipality of Sinimacheen today advised Mayor Percy George that it will send two delegates to the annual convention of the Union of B.C. Municipalities to be held here Sept. 7, 8 and 9.

Man Charged With Cheque Forgery

Gordon Smith, member of the Naval Shore Patrol, was remanded to Aug. 16 without plea when he appeared before Magistrate A. I. Thomas in city police court today and was charged with forgery.

He elected trial in city police court. James J. Proudfoot appeared as defence counsel.

He is alleged to have forged the name of D. Mackereth on the monthly pay cheque of city fireman D. Mackereth, made out for $181.20.

Mackereth reported to city police on Friday that he had lost the cheque in the Hudson's Bay Company building and police were later informed by Edna Young, cashier at the Bay, that a man had attempted to cash a cheque for that amount with her. Miss Young said that when she questioned the man he ran away.

Services Tomorrow For Thomas Welch

Funeral services will be held Tuesday for Thomas Welch, of 434 Simcoe Street, who passed away July 30. He was 80 years of age.

Rev. T. H. Laundy will conduct the service at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel at 1.30 and interment will follow at Colwood Burial Park.

Mr. Welch was born in Dorsetshire, Eng. He came to Canada at an early age and was a contractor in Winnipeg. He retired at 40 and came to Victoria 29 years ago.

He is survived by his wife, at home; one son, John, 50 Menzies Street; two daughters, Mrs. C. R. D. Ferris, 628 Battery Street, and Mrs. William Murray, Montreal, Quebec; five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Mr. Welch was a 32-degree Mason.

Egg Prices Advance

Egg prices, as expected, advanced today: 5 cents a dozen for grade A quality and 2 cents a dozen for pullet size.

The new increase means grade A large eggs will retail this week between 75 and 77 cents a dozen. A month ago, they were selling at 60 cents a dozen.

Some dealers say no further increases are likely. Eggs will be scarce, however, until September.

Then, chicks hatched in the spring will begin to lay and prices will begin to decline.

Young East Indians Hurt In Accident

Although knocked unconscious, injuries suffered in an accident Saturday by Jaswatt Singh Dodd and Baktanai Singh, young East Indians of the Colwood Timber Mill at Langford, are not believed to be serious. They are in Jubilee Hospital, but are expected to be released in a few days, according to reports.

Their car crashed into a telephone pole on the Island Highway near the Langford Speedway in the afternoon. Constable Bud Godfrey of the highway patrol of the B.C. Police reported the car was a complete wreck. It dived off the highway, down a slope and wound up against the pole, which was snapped off.

Rosalind Russell 'Behind Desk Again' In Her New Movie

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Rosalind Russell, the public's idea of the professional woman, is "back behind the desk again."

She has been a doctor, lawyer, psychiatrist, advertising executive and newspaper woman on the screen already. Now she's a college dean in "Woman of Distinction."

"Here I am again," she told me. "I'm always behind a desk, lifting phones and interoffice speakers, saying: 'Send Johnson in to see me—Tell Miss Frobisher to get that story in Philadelphia—Come in for dictation'."

A few years ago her friends kept telling her: "No, Roz, you're not playing another executive, are you?" So she gave up playing professional women for straight dramatic roles.

NOT FRIENDS' ADVICE

"That's when I made a mistake," she said. "Too often in Hollywood we listen to the mistaken advice of friends when we should listen to the public. The public never told me it was tired of my professional roles."

After a few films that won her dramatic but no box-office honors, Roz returned to the professional woman. Her only complaint is that there's no change of pace.

TRAGIC FIGURES

Roz said she had known and studied many professional women, particularly department store executives.

"Many of them are tragic figures. They often have husbands who are sick or poor. They always claim they are going to quit after the next sale. But they never do.

"Some day I will do the real story of the professional woman. It will be a tragedy."

I supplied her the title for the epic: "Death of a Saleswoman."

ROYAL THEATRE

Paul Douglas, who portrays a big league catcher in the new Twentieth Century-Fox comedy, "It Happens Every Spring," now showing at the Royal Theatre, ruled out all "off set" ball players during the making of the film. Having a catch with a neighbor's son, Douglas speared one with his index finger, and was unable to do anything but close-ups for a week.

OIL HALTS SWIMMING—With temperatures in the 90's, Torontonians faced another hot-weather hardship when two of the city's bathing beaches were ordered closed Thursday as a two-mile patch of oil drifted along the waterfront. Oil slicks have been reported along the lake-front for the past two weeks but the source has not as yet been established. Above, Jack Sullivan of Sunnyside Beach staff, one of the two closed, pulls his rake through the slick as swimmers Sheila Hill and Dorothy Hanes show why swimming is impossible.—(CP Photo)

CAPITOL THEATRE

How does Betty Grable keep her figure so trimly curved? The blonde star, whose latest picture in the Technicolor comedy at the Capitol Theatre, "The Beautiful Blonde from Bashful Bend," is asked that question constantly.

Fans, newspaper and magazine interviewers and even fellow-actresses all ask Betty and the truth is, she says, she doesn't have a satisfactory answer. There are no diets, systematic exercises, special creams or lotions, or even massages.

ODEON THEATRE

Probaly the most confused city in America during a five-week period last spring was Nogales, Arizona, situated on the Mexican border. Reason for its upset condition was the presence of Universal - International's film unit shooting "Johnny Stool Pigeon," story of the government's fight against the mushrooming postwar narcotics evil.

The picture, co-starring Howard Duff, Shelley Winters and Dan Duryea, is now at the Odeon Theatre.

U.S. Air Force Helps Get Thrilling Scene

Co-operation of the United States Air Force resulted in one of the most spectacular shots in "Piccadilly Incident," English made film co-starring England's top-ranking stars, Anna Neagle and Michael Wilding, and being shown at the Atlas Theatre.

A B-29 bomber, with American crew, plays the role of hero when the heroine, Anna Neagle, is rescued in the Pacific. A camera, placed in the nose of the giant bomber, recorded the unusual power dive of the giant craft, skimming so close to the surface of the ocean that most moviegoers will feel the spray!

DOMINION THEATRE

"Johnny Allegro," starring George Raft in the title role, is currently at the Dominion Theatre. The Columbia romantic adventure features Nina Foch and George Macready in support of the star. Karen DeWolf and Guy Endore collaborated on the screenplay.

MUSKRATY STATE

The entire state of Louisiana is threaded and dotted with bayous, lakes and small streams. Much of the land that borders on these navigable waters is marsh area, which furnishes an ideal home for the state's millions of muskrats.

Bridge

By Wm. E. McKenney

America's Card Authority

BRIDGE POPULARITY IS EVER INCREASING

Practically every city in the country has a bridge club. And, as I have often said, bridge is the one game in which young and old, whether they are athletic or crippled, can compete on an equal basis.

There are thousands upon thousands of people who are left alone. They need companionship and a game that will give them the competitive spirit. That is why the popularity of bridge is ever increasing, and the reason why bridge clubs should be encouraged. While it is true that at some clubs a small stake is played for, it is not the stake but the competitive spirit that people enjoy. The amount of money one can lose at bridge, even at a high stake, is small compared to what can be lost on other games or horse racing.

One of the first bridge club operators was Herman Goldberg of New York City. The other day I saw him playing rubber bridge at one of the clubs he originally owned, the Mayfair Bridge Club. As I kibitzed him, today's hand came up.

West's opening lead of the ten of hearts was made with the hope of finding his partner with the hearts, and also to avoid the danger of losing a trick by the lead of any other suit. Goldberg cashed four heart tricks and on the fourth heart West was helpless. West elected to discard three spades, so Goldberg simply cashed the ace of spades and conceded a spade trick to West.

Authorize $1,274,839 Building In Victoria During July Alone

Building permits for construction valued at $1,274,839 were issued by the city building inspector's office during the month of July. This figure does not include value of plumbing and wiring for which additional permits were issued.

A $1,012,000 permit for construction of thee provincial government's new office building on Government Street accounted for a major portion of the total.

Other permits issued for 23 new dwellings, including single-family homes, duplexes and apartments, accounted for $262,839 of the total.

Although 35 building permits were issued for construction of $374,513 worth of homes in July, 1948, city building officials said the average between this year and last was approximately the same because there was a one-week holiday shutdown by Victoria building trades this July.

SAANICH BUILDING

In Saanich, value of building permits issued up to the end of July this year was slightly over the figure for the same period last year.

The first seven months of 1949 saw 651 permits worth $1,701,957 granted. This figure included 336 papers for dwellings, their value $1,530,650. Figures for the same period of 1948 were: 836 permits, value $1,695,188, including 332 dwellings worth $1,506,525.

While more permits were issued for July this year than the same months last year, total value was down. Figures are: July, 1949—96 permits valued at $184,657; 35 for dwellings worth $140,000; July, 1948—94 permits valued at $219,500; 43 dwellings, $182,100.

Fourteen permits were issued by the Esquimalt building superintendent during the month for work totaling $39,335.

Seven of the 14 permits were for dwellings, amounting to $38,000. The others were for miscellaneous constructions, valued at $1,335.

During July of 1948, permits issued amounted to $107,040 in value.

Since Jan. 1 of this year, permits have been taken out for $107,040 worth of construction. This is $67,705 below the figure for the corresponding period of last year when permits totaled $509,160.

Four, Not Five Men On Fishboat Which Foundered Off Coast

A million-to-one rescue chance saved the lives of four British Columbia fishermen, when their fishboat was wrecked Saturday off Cape Caution, 250 miles north of Victoria.

Crew of the fishpacker Grier Starratt, the four scrambled into a skiff when their vessel perished in high rocks in dense fog and darkness.

Shortly afterwards, the gillnetter KA appeared on the scene to pluck the shipwrecked seamen from the treacherous waters.

The four are: Doug Nichol, captain, Vancouver; Shirley Cottell, Mission, mate; Jim Lowe, Vancouver, engineer, and Vic Palmer, Vancouver, cook.

All four are now at Cascade Harbor, on Nigez Island, off Vancouver Island's east coast.

Teddy Nichol, 12-year-old son of the captain, did not make the trip with his father. He had been left at Cascade Harbor before the Grier Starratt left port. Earlier it was thought he was aboard the fishboat. Lost were 40,000 sockeye salmon, worth an estimated $13,000.

Unions Certified For 18 Groups Employees

• Certificates of bargaining authority were granted last week to 16 unions, forming 18 different groups of employees in various parts of the province, one in Victoria, it was learned today from the Labor Relations Board.

The local group includes maintenance electricians of Royal Jubilee Hospital. Their bargaining authority is Local 230 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, A.F.L.

Two other certificates of the 18 were for workers in Nanaimo.

Retail Clerks' Union, Local 279, A.F.L., was certified for employees of Canada Safeway Co. Ltd., working as grocery and food clerks at 493 Wallace Street of the up-island city; General Truck Drivers and Helpers' Union, Local 31, A.F.L., was certified for truck drivers and swampers of Schofield and Malpass Ltd., Fitzwilliam Street, Nanaimo.

Hospital Complains Of Road Conditions

A complaint regarding condition of the roads in the vicinity of St. Joseph's Hospital was received at City Hall today from Sister Superior Rose Mary.

"On our own, but especially at the repeated requests from doctors and visitors, I would hereby wish to draw your attention to the deplorable state of the roads in the vicinity of the hospital," the sister superior wrote.

"Further, I might point out the very unkempt condition of Rupert, from Fairfield Road to Humboldt Street."

It also was suggested in the letter that the bus stop at Collinson and Rupert be moved to Fairfield and Rupert. The sister superior said the reason for this request was "that all and sundry types of humanity use the wall of our nurses' home as a settee which takes from the good appearance of our institution."

A bad cut on the right cheek and a bruised eye was suffered by Westley E. Coome, 80, of 3049 Millgrove Street, Saturday night when he was struck by a ball at Athletic Park. He was in the bleachers and a foul ball was responsible. City police took him to hospital for treatment.

To Rename Alice, Adelaide For Mediterranean Service

The Greeks have a word for it—in fact, they have two words.

They are Angelica and Aegeon—and they are the names by which the retired C.P.R. coastal steamers Princess Adelaide and Princess Alice, respectively, will be known.

The veteran ships, purchased recently by Typaldus Bros., ship operators of Piraeus, Greece, for service in the Mediterranean, are now being made seaworthy at the Outer Wharf plant of Victoria Machinery Depot Co. Ltd. and will likely leave for Greece late this month.

Spyro Typaldus, partner in the firm which purchased the ships, told the Daily Times today he will fly to New York tonight or Tuesday where a Greek official known as the consul-harbormaster would officially change the registry and names of the ships.

The new names will be painted on the vessels before they sail for Greece via the Panama Canal. The Angelica—or Adelaide—will leave first.

Both ships are having extra fuel tanks installed, and will be drydocked for cleaning before leaving.

SKELETON CREWS

Skeleton crews of 19 men will man the ships on their ocean voyages. When in service in the Mediterranean, each will have a crew of about 78 men.

Currently in the city seeing to the work being done to the Adelaide is Capt. John Papadakis of Piraeus.

A veteran of 40 years at sea, during which time he has covered most of the globe, Capt. Papadakis will retain command of the Adelaide when she goes into service out of Greece.

He said today one of the two ships will carry passengers between Alexandria, Egypt; Marseilles, France; Genoa, Italy, and Piraeus, while the other will travel between the Greek mainland and islands of the Aegean Sea. It has not been decided which ship will go on the longer Mediterranean run.

Incidentally, the Alice is being renamed after the Aegean Sea, but Capt. Papadakis says the spelling in English letters, as done by a Greek, would be Aegeon.

Light Winds, Colorful Novelty Events Mark Yacht Club Regatta

Though speedy sailing was hampered by lack of a steady breeze, the Royal Victoria Yacht Club's annual regatta proved entertaining Sunday to hundreds of citizens at Cadboro Bay and along the Oak Bay waterfront.

Novelty events livened up proceedings as about 50 balloons were loosed over the bay and small craft scampered around picking them up. Dick Moore, in his Hyak, took first prize with the greatest number of balloons.

Dick Vogel won the treasure hunt, while the rowing races—in which contestants are in tiny punts—were won by Ned Ashe and Isobel Vogel.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Cole took honors in the scarf sailing race, with G. Nickells crossing the finish line first in the "bang and go back" event, in which boats of all sizes and speeds took part.

RETAIN WHALER TROPHY

In the whaler races between the yacht club and the navy, one of the highlights of the two-day regatta, top honors went to the former with a total of 34 points to the navy's 27. The yacht club thus retained possession of a trophy donated last year by the navy for the event.

Max Young and his crew, consisting of William Stein, Peter Young, Marilyn MacLeod, Pamela Golby and Donna Whiting, proved the standout group in the whaler class, coming first on both Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

Yacht club whalers gained a total of 20 points to 16 for the navy on Saturday, and on Sunday 14 against 11 for the navy.

Strong tides on Saturday and lack of wind on Sunday caused the heavy whalers some grief, with only three R.V.Y.C. boats and two navy boats finishing on Sunday.

COLORFUL SCENE

The several classes of sailing craft made a colorful marine scene as they navigated the courses off Cadboro Bay and Oak Bay.

Results of races were:

Auxiliary Cruisers — First, Buccaneer, H. Wallace; second, May D, Ned Ashe; third, 3 L's, N. Sorenson.

Lightnings — First, Pastime, W. Vogel; second, Hyak, R. Moore; third, Ariel, Eric Dowell.

Stars—First, Vela, Alf Evans; second, Aquila, Pete Townshend; third, Merrilees, G. Darimont.

Comets—First, Bip, F. Harley; second, Stardust, G. Nickells.

Snipes—First, Stormy, Vi McConaghy and Riske, D. Roberts, tie; second, Panamanja, J. Merston.

Mariners Advised Of Changes In Navigation Aids On This Coast

J. C. Lessard, deputy minister of transport, announces in a departmental bulletin from Ottawa information regarding aids on this coast.

Characteristic of the light on East Point, Saturna Island, Strait of Georgia, has been changed. The white light, erected on a skeleton steel tower surmounted by a drum-shaped rotating beacon, has two beams 180 degrees apart flashing every 15 seconds with fixed red light below.

The white light is 121 feet above high water and can be seen for 19 miles. The red light 102 feet above high water.

The white light is visible over an arc of 271 degrees from 149 degrees through south, west and north to 60 degrees. The red light is visible over an arc of 62 degrees 30 minutes from 149 degrees through south to 211 degrees 30 minutes.

NANAIMO HARBOR

A red and a green light and a foghorn have been established on the new Canadian Pacific Railway Company wharf at Nanaimo Harbor. The red and green lights are fixed lights, 11 feet above high water. Both are mounted on posts on corners of the wharf and are visible from all points of marine approach.

The red light is on the northeast corner of the wharf, the green light on the northwest corner.

The fog alarm is located by the red light mentioned above and points northeast. Its characteristic is: Blast one second, silence one second.

A light has been established on Godkin Point, Hope Island, entrance to Bull Harbor, Vancouver Island — lat. N. 50 degrees 53 minutes 42 seconds; long. W. 127 degrees 55 minutes 40 seconds.

The light, which is unwatched, is 36 feet above high water and visible from all points of marine approach.

It is on a concrete base surmounted by a mast with a red lantern on top.

Characteristic is flashing white, automatically flashed at short intervals.

Thief Tackled By Victim Of Robbery

William Cassidy succeeded in saving his trousers and shoes at 2.30 Sunday morning when he tackled the fully-clothed man who was making off with them in one of the dormitories of the Prince Robert House.

According to Detective Maurice Wilkinson, Cassidy was awakened by a noise and on seeing his belongings in possesion of a man who was tip-toeing out of the room immediately went after him.

A scuffle took place in the hallway. The thief dropped the stolen articles and made off.

A police check of suspects has failed to uncover the responsible party.

Power Boat Added

An addition to the Royal Victoria Yacht Club's power boat fleet touched salt water for the first time today when she was lowered into the sea at the Bay Street plant of Victoria Machinery Depot Co. Ltd.

She was the 30-foot pleasure craft Sealanes, built by D. James, in the back yard of his home at 1414 Monterey Avenue.

Mr. James, who has built several other boats, is proud of his latest effort. The completely modern boat is powered by a six-cylinder gas engine which will give her a speed of about 13 knots.

Woodwork finish is of teak and mahogany and she has sleeping accommodation for four. Features are dual ignition, fastenings of bronze and a keel made of greenheart wood from British Guiana. Pump and toilet facilities are electrically operated.

Mr. and Mrs. James plan to take a cruise through coastal waters in their new boat later this summer.

Ships, Sailors Prepare To Meet Public Navy Week

Navy Week plans are well under way in the ships and establishments of the Pacific Command of the Royal Canadian Navy.

The traditional naval welcome will be extended to the public of Greater Victoria and visitors to Vancouver Island when they "meet the Navy" during the "open house" days in Navy Week, Aug. 8 to 14.

The shipwright shops in the Esquimalt Dockyard and in H.M.C.S. Naden are humming with activity these days, as displays and signs are prepared.

The dockyard shops will be in full operation, and visitors will be able to see technicians, both naval and civilian, engaging in the all-important work of repairing and maintaining, fitting and modifying the complex equipment used by a modern navy. The cruiser Ontario, the destroyers Athabaskan and Crescent, the frigates Antigonish and Beanconhill . . . will hold open gangway on Wednesday and Saturday. Each ship will display an interesting phase of navy life and training.

Parades in Victoria, sunset ceremonies, a dance, baseball and softball games and many other events will round out the seven-day celebrations.

Steamship Official Aboard Mattawunga Now At Ogden Point

Norwegian freighter Mattawunga is now at Ogden Point loading 475,000 feet of lumber for Australia, Ken Briggs of King Bros., shipping agents, reports.

The ship arrived here from Coos Bay, Ore., Sunday evening with Morse Frazier, vice-president of General Steamship Company, San Francisco, agents for Trans-Atlantic Steamship Co., owners of the Mattawunga, aboard.

Also aboard was a vice-president of the Standard Oil Compan of California.

Other ships expected here this week are the Ionian Trader Thursday and the Theofano Livanos, due Saturday or Sunday. The former will load 300,000 feet of lumber for Australia, the latter, 500,000 feet for Britain.

'Y' Members Return From 1,500-Mile Cruise To Alaska

Fifteen members of the Y.M.C.A. returned to the city Sunday night following a 1,500-mile cruise aboard the cabin cruiser Songhee to Hyder, Alaska.

The two-week cruise was highly successful, program director Bob Morrison of the Y.M.C.A. said today.

En-route to Hyder, the party stopped at various fishing villages and were guests of a conducted tour of the fish cannery and cold storage plant at Namu, B.C. This plant is the second largest of its kind on the Pacific coast.

At Hyder the party was driven to the glaciers near the town by members of the Canadian customs.

At Bella Bella, en route home, the group was entertained by officials of the United Church Mission Hospital.

Next summer's cruise for "Y" members is scheduled to leave the city Aug. 14 for a one-week trip to Princess Louise Inlet. The Portland Y.M.C.A. which will accompany the local association on this trip announces there are four vacancies on its boat and local "Y" members are invited to fill the vacancies.

HAY FEVER AND ASTHMA

Need Separate Treatment

Amazingly new and effective separate treatments for Asthma and Hay Fever have recently been developed.

HAY FEVER: AZO is a salve for the relief of discomforts and distresses caused by Hay Fever. AZO comes in a tube with a special nozzle, which makes it easy to squeeze a little up each nostril to stop the sneezing and discharge with amazing speed, soothe irritated and inflamed membranes. A tube of AZO costs $1.50. If your Hay Fever is accompanied by difficult breathing, the outfit at $3.50, which includes two tubes and special tablets, is recommended.

ASTHMA: Asthmatics are skeptical of results because of the large number of preparations they have tried out, so few claims are made here for Respatone Asthma tablets; but it is known Respatone gives excellent results in a very high percentage of cases. To take care of all budgets, Respatone is available in three sizes, 75c, $1.75 and the large economy $5.00.

Azo and Respatone have been compounded by specialists in this field for over 30 years; and are distributed throughout Canada by Springwood Pharmaceuticals, Saanichton, B.C. Cut out this article to remind you to ask your druggist today for whichever treatment you require.

Expect Economic Squall In West Germany This Winter

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—Many United States authorities here expect an economic squall to hit Western Germany within the next few months.

"The winter may well bring rough going for the Germans," an Economic Co-operation Administration official said Sunday.

"German export trade is headed for a terrible time."

American officials are concerned because western Europe's reovery pivots on Western Germany regaining its economic vitality. A major slump in Western Germany could shake the entire structure of the European Recovery Program. And the implications within Germany are vast. Americal of ficials stress the political dangers.

SHOUTED DOWN

Dr. Ludwig Edhard, West German economic boss, was shouted down recently with cries of "We want work! and "We want bread!" when he tried to make a speech in Wolfenbuettel.

During the year ending June 30, 1949, West Germany exported goods valued at more than $900,000,000. This exceeded the target by nearly $200,000,000.

But production has levelled off after a phenomenal rise. German goods are bumping into sales resistance abroad.

Unemployment hit a postwar peak this month. Steel orders are declining. Railroad freight car loadings are down. Many stores are overloaded with goods. For the first time since the war, store fronts are plastered with "special sale" signs. They beckon buyers with promises of 30 to 50 per cent price slashes.

Business failures are increasing. There is a critical shortage of investment capital.

But the whole picture is not dark. Inflation has eased. Prices have dropped although they are still high.

Saanich Motorist Hurt In Accident

William Gower, aged 79, 2026 Fernwood Road, is in Jubilee Hospital today being treated for a fractured leg, fractured ribs, multiple bruises and shock, suffered at 11.45 Sunday morning when the car he was driving crashed into a telephone pole on East Saanich Road.

Constable Robert Coleman who took Gower to hospital, said that the driver informed him he had "blacked out" while proceeding toward town about one-uarter of a mile north of the Toby Jug.

The old model car was classed as a complete wreck.

Yale Buys Private Papers Of Boswell

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Yale University Sunday night announced the acquisition of the private papers of James Boswell, biographer of Samuel Johnson.

They will be published in their entirety, Yale said.

The university purchased the collection from Lt.-Col. Ralph H. Isham of New York, who spent 25 years gathering it together.

Some items had lain unnoticed for a century in attics and in the outbuildings of an Irish castle and a Scottish mansion.

Hope Atomic Policy Talks Will Assist Relationships

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration officials expressed hope Sunday that forthcoming atomic policy talks will (1), improve relations with Britain and Canada and (2), close some troublesome splits in President Truman's official family.

The difficulties have not soured general relations among the three governments but on atomic issues they have not been good for long periods since the war. A result that now the United States and Britain particularly may be duplicating costly work for lack of more information exhange.

This is one difficulty that has concerned high officials in both countries. In this country, it is reported to have brought sharp differences of opinions with the United States Atomic Energy Commission, the state department, the military establishment and the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy. These concern the amount of information that might be given Britain or Canada. Some advisers attribute these clashes to differing interpretations of the atomic law's secrecy rules.

Mr. Truman Thursday announced that talks will be held to work out long-range atomic policy concerning these two countries, with Congress sharing in the final decision. He said the present arrangements concerning exchange of information and supplies are limited in scope and duration.

While preparations for the talks are under way, it is expected they will be delayed until the fall.

A plan of co-operation was worked out last year among the three countries following their wartime collaboration on the bomb. Reports have been current that Britain wants a greater share of information. Meantime, the United States is faced with the fact that Britain and Canada control the great supplies of uranium, raw material in bomb production.

New Speed Ship By Gar Wood May Revolutionize Travel

DETROIT (AP) — Gar Wood, the retired speedboat king, disclosed today the design of a secret ship that may revolutionize ocean travel.

It is the 120-ton Venturi, a seagoing vessel, that slices through the waves on twin hulls and has no roll at high speed. The Venturi is unlike anything that has ever been seen on the water.

Wood calls it the prototype, or model, of the express passenger liner of tomorrow. The industrialist inventor spent 28 years developing the design at an expenditure of $600,000.

The basic design of the odd-looking craft, Wood said, will permit surface vessels to compete favorably with trans-ocean airlines.

The ship Venturi now is being fitted out as a yacht at Wood's private 122-acre island estate below Miami Beach, Fla. Wood expects it to be completed in about four months. The Venturi already has made test runs in the roughest weather. Wood said it has not been possible to make the ship roll, pitch or yaw at any speed.

The experimental craft is 188 feet long and 40 feet wide. A broad deck connects the two hulls about 22 feet above the waterline. Cabins are built atop this deck. The Venturi, seen head-on, has the appearance of a big, square-sided tunnel. The tunnel runs the length of the boat between the hulls.

AIR ABSORBS SHOCKS

When the ship cruises at 26 knots air rushes through the tunnel and acts as a shock absorber for any up and down movement of the boat. The air cushion actually lifts the craft enough out of the water so that she draws only six inches of water at the bow and eight feet at the stern.

Tank tests indicate, Wood said, that a 16,000-ton ship of Venturi design could easily carry 4,000 passengers at a speed of 38 knots. It would require only 120,000 horsepower. He pointed out that a ship like the Queen Mary, of 80,773 tons, requires 200,000 horsepower to carry 1,995 passengers at 32 knots.

The Venturi is powered by four 1,200-horsepower diesel engines. Its cruising range is 3,000 miles.

Wood termed results of tests with the Venturi is impressive. He plans, however, another year of study before deciding upon all details of the Venturi.

The Venturi hull was launched originally at West Palm Beach, Fla. Wood built her in secret there for the United States army air forces. The war ended, however, before the U.S.A.F. secured full value from her and Wood reacquired the hull.

Treasure Hunt For $360,000,000 Under Way On Seychelle

MAHE, Seychelle Island (Reuter)—A hunt is under way on this British-governed Indian Ocean island for an estimated $360,000,000 treasure believed to have been buried by the notorious French pirate La Beuze before he was executed in 1790.

Guided by the chart La Beuze is believed to have thrown to a crowd before he was hanged on Reunion Island, three treasure hunters already have discovered encouraging signs in the area where they believe the treasure is buried.

The men are R. H. Wilkins, East African hunter; M. J. E. Morgan, a British lawyer, and Col. D. M. Hennessey, retired Indian Army officer.

The chart, designed in the form of a riddle, is supposed to mark the burial place of gold chalices, doubloons and jewels looted from ships plying the Indian Ocean trade routes in the 17th and 18th centuries.

The treasure hunters report that they have come upon bee signs, common symbol of pirates because bees kill intruders upon their preserves.

Mahe is about 250 miles northeast of Madagascar and 1,750 miles southwest of Bombay.

Nova Scotia Log Scale Reduced By 25 Per Cent

HALIFAX (CP) — The 1949 lumber cut in Nova Scotia will be "definitely reduced by 25 per cent" as a result of British import restrictions, Charles E. MacCulloch, Halifax lumberman, reports.

Attempt To Shoot Niagara Rapids In Barrel Unsuccessful

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—Suffering a broken leg, Maj. Lloyd Hill Saturday night was lifted from the swirling waters of the Niagara River whirlpool six hours after he attempted to shoot the river rapids in a steel barrel.

In his unsuccessful attempt Hill was trapped in the whirlpool for four hours before an emergency crew could reach him. He was brought from the water by means of a cable car.

Hill floated into the whirlpool and was trapped. As the barrel touched shore he fell and broke his leg when he pushed the barrel back into the fast-moving waters.

When the barrel was finally caught with a block and tackle, the car which operates across the whirlpool was gradually moved to the opposite side of the river, lifting Hill with it.

A small crowd watched Hill, the third member of his family to try the stunt, begin his hazardous journey Saturday afternoon. He was strapped in a hammock in the sealed barrel.

His father, William (Red) Hill dared the rapids three times successfully, and a brother, William (Red) Hill Jr., completed the trip in 1945.

Lloyd still had some five miles of rough water to negotiate before he reached his goal, Queenston, Ont.

Five-Pound Baby Born In Iron Lung

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP) — A five-pound, four-ounce girl was born in an iron lung Sunday to a polio patient at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Mrs. Robert G. Davis, 24, "withstood the delivery as well as any normal person," Dr. Thomas Huth, resident doctor at the hospital, reported.

"Mrs. Davis and her baby are fine so far as the birth is concerned," Dr. Huth added, "but her polio condition is unchanged."

Three Missing After Collision At Sea

PROVENCETOWN, Mass. (AP)—The 80-foot scallop boat Ramona, Sunday was rammed and sunk by a freighter in dense fog about 100 miles off Cape Cod. Three of the 10-man crew were reported missing.

Monthly meeting of the Dockyard Civil Service Federated Association will be held at 8 tonight at Prince Robert House.

Eight Killed In Flaming Car Crash

STATHAM, Ga. (AP) — Eight persons, including four children, Sunday were burned beyond recognition in a flaming automobile crash.

Police said the bodies were those of a man, three women, one girl about 12, and three smaller girls.

All papers and documents which would have helped establish identity were burned. License plates were melted by the intense heat from the burning car, a 1933 Chevrolet.

Through the motor number, troops traced ownership of the car to an Oley Anderson of Winterville, Ga. Police said, however, they have been unable to determine definitely whether Anderson and his family were in the vehicle.

The British West Indies possessions fall into six groups of islands.

Grasshopper Toll In Saskatchewan Reported Serious

REGINA (CP) — The grasshopper situation in Saskatchewan has become "surprisingly serious," agriculture department officials said today.

The number is greater than expected in view of the extensive extermination campaign carried out by farmers. Provincial agriculture officials urged the continuance of widespread poisoning campaign even though the insects are flying.

They estimated the spraying could save farmers from three to four bushels of wheat per acre. In addition, killing the insects now would mean less infestation in 1950.

The hoppers were reported causing considerable damage by clipping the heads off wheat stocks in the Davidson, Weyburn, Moose Jaw, Regina and McLean areas.

Badly Beaten Body Of Woman Found

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—A woman tentatively identified as Laura A. Showalter, about 50, was found beaten to death here early today.

Police Chief Charles Stowepl said there was evidence of a terrific struggle. He said the woman was badly beaten from her chin line to forehead.

Stowepl said the body was found in a grassy area across the road from a heavily populated section. The woman's clothing was torn.

One person reported to police that he saw a man and a woman in the area Sunday night about 9.30 p.m.

London Bobbies Get Open-Neck Tunics

LONDON (AP) — London bobbies blossomed out in open-neck tunics today for the first time since the creation of the metropolitan police force in 1829.

Scotland Yard said all London policemen are being changed to the new look uniforms, with low collars and ties, instead of high collars.

But there's no danger, Scotland Yardmen hastily assured, of a change in the design of the high-domed helmet by which London constables are identified the world over.

Favorites Take Easy Victories In Tennis Opener

HALIFAX (CP)—W. J. (Handsome Bill) Tully of Bronxville, N.Y., got away winging in defence of his singles title in an opening-round match of the Canadian Lawn Tennis Championships today, defeating Frank Nolan, Halifax junior, in straight sets, 6-3, 6-1.

Montreal's little Henri Rochon and Lorne Main of Vancouver, who loom as the chief threats to Tully's title, also breezed to easy triumphs over Halifax players.

Rochon won in straight love sets from Bill Swales, while Main polished off Bruce Bauld, 6-1, 6-2.

Walter Stohlbeg of Vancouver, who with Rochon, Main and Brenden Macken of Montreal comprised Canada's Davis Cup team this year, had little trouble in winning his first match, defeating Perry Beadon of Halifax, 6-1, 6-2.

Federal Reconstruction Minister R. H. (Bob) Winters of Lunenburg, N.S., bowed out of the tournament in quick order, losing to one of his constituents, Dr. Philip Cole of Chester, N.S., 6-1, 6-3, in a first-round match.

The opening-day schedule called for 71 matches as a sport feature of Halifax's bi-centenary celebration. By the end of the day's play the field of more than 130 in singles events was expected to be reduced to 16 in each of the men's and women's classes.

Patricia Macken of Montreal is on hand to defend her singles crown.

Bachelor Days Numbered

Jimmy Stewart, long known as Hollywood's most confirmed bachelor, is visited on the movie set by his bride-to-be, Gloria McLean. Stewart will wed the New York socialite some time this month when he finishes his current film assignment. Then it's off to Hawaii on a three-month honeymoon.

Toronto Streets Scene Of Movie-Style Pursuit

TORONTO (CP) — A relentless police hunt is on here for a bandit who used a revolver to blast his way to freedom after robbing a groceteria and killing a young father who barred his way.

With a $2,000 price on the killer's head and practically the entire city on the alert, a report that the fugitive had been sighted touched off a wild police chase today.

But the chase ended without a capture and police later expressed doubt that their quarry in the movie-style pursuit along midtown streets was the gunman.

The victim of the shooting affray staged outside a groceteria on east-central Parliament Street shortly before 6 p.m. Saturday was Gerald E. (Alfred) Layng, 25, a stockroom clerk at a paper box company and an R.C.A.F. veteran.

Layng, who had been shopping downtown with his wife and four-year-old daughter, tackled the fleeing man and tried to pin his arm to his sides. The bandit freed his gun arm and fired two shots into Layng's abdomen. Layng collapsed and died at his wife's feet as the bandit dashed up a laneway.

Layng was the second man fired on in the robber's desperate escape dash. Leonard Leftly, 19, a clerk in the groceteria, tried to stop him when he emerged from the door. Leftly was shot in the hip at point-blank range.

$1,000 RECOVERED

But Leftly's attempt to halt the bandit was credited with the recovery of approximately $1,000 which the fugitive stole from the store. Leftly's tackle knocked a paper bag filled with the money from the man's grip and the robber abandoned it and fled empty-handed.

In his flight, he discarded his hat, coat, tie and gloves. He took temporary refuge in the rear of a car but resumed his flight when the car owner, a woman, surprised him there. Later, he tried to commandeer a car, gave up the attempt, then dashed frantically through backyards and laneways until he shook off pursuit.

Aerial Refueling Of Jets Feasible

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some U.S. air force experts think the refueling of jet fighter planes while in flight is entirely feasible.

If the aerial refueling technique—already in use for B-50 bombers—can be applied to jet fighters it will go a long way toward solving the problem of providing jet fighter cover for long distance bomber missions. The range of fighters thus can be extended by hundreds or thousands of miles.

August May Be Peak Month Of Year Warn Medical Officials

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia's increasing incidence of polio claimed four more victims over the week-end.

Simultaneously, Dr. A. M. Menzies, assistant city health officer, warned August may be "the peak month" in the polio outbreak.

To date, 61 polio cases have been reported throughout the province. Of this total, 54 are in the Greater Vancouver area. Week-end cases reported were from Haney, Gabriola Island, Courtenay and Vancouver.

Dr. Menzies warned against children being chilled after bathing at city beaches. He said polio prevention measures now include chlorination of all swimming pools, outdoor and indoor.

The disease has claimed two lives in the current outbreak. Medical men earlier predicted the peak would be reached some time in September.

Short-Cut May Speed Victory Over Disease

(Copyright 1949 by United Press)

LOS ANGELES — Research scientists are taking a "short-cut" on the road to conquer polio, a step that may bring victory over the disease years ahead of schedule.

By this corner-cutting the scientists hope to produce the keys that will unlock the door to safe vaccine—an accomplishment that would put to an end the dreaded epidemics that each year leave their crippled victims of infantile paralysis.

The "short-cut" route has been made possible through a $1,370,000 research grant of "March of Dimes" funds from the National Foundation For Infantile Paralysis. Those funds have been allocated to investigators at four of the nation's top universities where scientists—in one of those too rare instances—are working in a co-ordinated project for a common goal.

The universities participating are Southern California, Utah, Kansas and Pittsburgh.

In this four-way attack, there are no petty jealousies. The schools have adopted standard techniques and exchange their information freely.

The goal is: To determine how many groups, types or varieties of viruses cause polio.

Such identification of the different groups is necessary if early diagnosis and any effective, safe vaccine are to be obtained scientists agree that better diagnosis and prevention techniques must be developed.

IDENTIFY 3 GROUPS

Already the scientists on this short-cut have definitely determined that there are three groups of the polio virus that have struck in this country since 1914.

One kind of polio has been tentatively designated as Group 1 by investigators of the University of Southern California, whose laboratory has been set up in Los Angeles County Hospital. In this group the U.S.C. scientists have placed 20 different strains found in human patients in virtually every part of the country. The strains for practical purposes are identical in that they react the same in animal vaccine experiments.

The scientists have found four polio strains that they have placed in Group 2. The four strains differ entirely from those in Group 1, and a vaccine against them will not work against those in Group 1, or vice versa.

A third variety has been isolated here in Los Angeles, and because it is different either from those in Group 1 or 2, it is being classified as Group 3.

New A-Bombs Produced On Industrial Basis

By FRANK CAREY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission of the United States today announced its new and more-effective atomic bombs—proof-tested at Eniwetok—are being produced "on an industrial basis."

It also said uranium and plutonium for bombs and other atomic energy uses are being produced "in greater quantities than ever before."

Relating "advances in all phases of the national atomic energy program," the A.E.C. in its sixth semi-annual report to Congress also listed progress on the medical front, including indications that relatively inexpensive radioactive cobalt may eventually prove to be a better cancer treatment than radium.

At the same time the A.E.C. disclosed it had found ace-in-the-hole sources of uranium in the United States that could be used at some future time for military applications — in case the uranium now obtainable should cease to be available.

The United States now gets most of is uranium from Canada and the Belgian Congo which have ores of a high uranium content. Some of the precious stuff also comes from low-grade carnotite ore of the Colorado plateau—an ore relatively low in uranium content.

PROSPECTING

The commission told today of extensive exploration and prospecting by the A.E.C. and the United States geological survey all over the country.

"By mid-year this work had revealed enormous tonnages of very low-grade materials (that is, materials low in uranium content.).

"They cost more to process but they could be utilized in the future to sustain an atomic energy program for military purposes, should lower-cost uranium cease to be available."

The 202-page report made no reference to current discussions concerning U.S.-British-Canadian relations in the atomic energy field.

The commission spokesman told a reporter that the semi-annual report had been written before the discussions about United States relations with its "atomic allies" had drawn public attention.

The report said operations in the field of military application of atomic energy "have continued to accelerate during the last six months."

Weather Forecast

Cloudy today and Tuesday morning, clearing Tuesday afternoon; light winds, little change in temperature. Low tonight, 53; high Tuesday, 70.

Legislative Effort To Reopen Hawaii Ports Slowed Down

HONOLULU (AP) — Hawaii's legislative effort to reopen strikebound ports slowed down today. A new debate arose over whether a government stevedoring firm should hire striking C.I.O. longshoremen.

Strikers, employers and Governor Ingram M. Stainback have come out against the bill drafted by a special session of the territorial Legislature.

The measure would put the territory into the stevedoring business without seizing the islands' seven struck firms. It would ban hiring of the 2,000 stevedores of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union who began the strike May 1. It also would prohibit the use of the seven companies' equipment and supervisors.

Daredevil Rides Niagara Rapids Successfully Again

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP) —Maj. Hill, 30-year-old daredevil, rode the raging rapids of the Niagara River gorge successfully today on his second attempt in three days.

He went through the swirling waterways in the 625-pound steel drum in which he was injured Saturday when it spun helplessly for 90 minutes in a whirlpool. Hill suffered injuries which kept him in hospital for the week-end.

Today, he decided to attempt to complete the journey. He went down to the river early this afternoon, but changed his mind and said he would not make a second try today. Then, a few hours later, he reversed his decision again and stepped into the barrel. Once away, it bounced along in the swiftly-flowing current and carried him to Queenstown, three miles downstream.
